Geekerella

A Novel

ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN
ONCE UPON A COMIC-CON...

by Ashley Poston

Geek girl Elle Wittimer lives and breathes Starfield, the classic sci-fi series she grew up watching with her now deceased father. So when she sees a cosplay contest for a new Starfield movie, she has to enter. The prize? An invitation to the ExcelsiCon Cosplay Ball and a meet-and-greet with the actor slated to play Federation Prince Carmindor in the reboot. With savings from her job at the Magic Pumpkin food truck (and her dad's old costume), Elle is determined to win...unless her stepsisters get there first.

Teen actor Darien Freeman used to live for fan conventions—before he was famous. Now they're nothing but autographs and awkward meet-and-greets. Playing Carmindor is all he's ever wanted, but Starfield fandom has written him off as just a dumb heartthrob. As ExcelsiCon draws near, Darien feels more and more like a fake—until he meets a girl who shows him otherwise. But when she disappears at midnight, will he ever be able to find her again?

Part romance, part love letter to nerd culture, and all totally adorbs, Geekerella is a fairy tale for anyone who believes in the magic of fandom.

ASHLEY POSTON is the author of The Sound of Us and We Own the Night, both published by Bloomsbury Spark.

10 Dead Comedians

A Novel

A HILARIOUS HOMAGE
TO THE WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS MYSTERY NOVEL

by Fred Van Lente

10 Dead Comedians is an homage to the most famous and best-selling mystery novel of all time, Agatha Christie's And Then There Were None (originally published in 1939 as Ten Little Indians). Even if you haven't read it, you probably know the plot. Ten strangers are invited by a shadowy host to an isolated island. Once the guests arrive, each is accused of a terrible crime. Trapped on the island, they begin to share their secrets, and then to die off one by one.

As our variation on the story opens, we are introduced to a group of famous and not-so-famous stand-up comedians who receive a mysterious text, an invitation to a private retreat on the private Caribbean island of Dustin Walker, a legendary comedian, movie star, practically a god-among-comics. You've seen similar characters before in Hollywood: the observational comic, the insult comic, the late night show host. Little alliances begin to form, but why can't anyone get cell reception, how do they get off the island... and who is behind the murders when people start dying in this hilarious parody?

FRED VAN LENTE is the #1 New York Times bestselling, award-winning writer of comics like Odd Is On Our Side (with Dean R. Koontz), Archer & Armstrong (Harvey Award nominee), and Action Philosophers! (American Library Association Best Graphic Novel for Teens)

Literary Yarns

Crochet Patterns Inspired by Classic Books

Featuring characters from

- The Great Gatsby
- The Scarlet Letter
- Pride and Prejudice
- The Wizard of Oz
- The Metamorphosis
- Anne of Green Gables
- The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes

And many more!

by Cindy Wang

What's the perfect gift for your friend who loves literature? How about an adorable crocheted Moby Dick? Or a delightfully miniature Elizabeth Bennet? Or an elegant and fuzzy Jay Gatsby? Whether you need some holiday decor (Ebenezer Scrooge!) or want to craft your own nursery decor (the White Rabbit), Literary Yarns is full of adorable amigurumi for book lovers of all ages. The easy-to-follow patterns are drawn from 18 classic novels, plays, and poetry. Make them for your friends, decorate your house, or use them as pretty much the cutest action figures imaginable. The materials are readily available and the instructions are suitable for crafters with beginning crochet skills.

CINDY WANG is a healthcare professional by day and a crochet ninja by night. She blogs at geekyhooker.wordpress.com, where she is known for amigurumi superheroes, movie characters, monsters, and more.

Recipes Every College Student Should Know

BECAUSE THERE REALLY IS LIFE AFTER RAMEN

You have a microwave, a mini-fridge, and a very strict budget. What's the tastiest way to a satisfying study break?

- A. Bacon and Guacamole Wrap
- B. Cake in a Cup
- C. Chicken Fried Rice
- D. Taco-Flavored Popcorn
- E. One of the many other recipes in this book!

by Christine Nelson

College cooking can be a challenge: your dorm kitchen is small, your budget is smaller, and your dorm supervisor is going to be super mad if you set off the smoke alarm (again). Fortunately, Recipes Every College Student Should Know is here to help. Discover quick breakfasts to help you make it to class on time, backpack-friendly lunches, dormmate dinners for a crowd, study break snacks, and of course an infallible recipe for mug cake—plus basic tools, terms, nutrition, and safety tips for beginning cooks. No matter if you've got a microwave and an electric kettle or a full-sized kitchen, this book will have you well-fed and back to studying (or video games) in no time.

CHRISTINE NELSON is a writer, cook, and accountant in Clayton, New Jersey. She has four college-age sons who routinely call her for advice at dinnertime.

How to Eat a Lobster

And Other Edible Enigmas Explained

FROM ARTICHOKE TO WHOLE FISH

- How to slice a mango
- How to carve a chicken
- How to hold a wineglass
- How to eat something spicy
- And more!

written by Ashley Blom
illustrated by Lucy Engelman

Sometimes an evening is going great . . . until the crawfish arrive. Then what do you do? (Answer: Twist and snap off the head. Peel the tail and pull out the meat. Then suck the juices from the head. Seriously: you're supposed to!)

For every tricky dining situation you can imagine (and a few you can't), How to Eat a Lobster will show you how to navigate the meal with grace, style, and minimal splatter. With easy-to-follow instructions and helpful illustrations, you'll learn the answers to 50 food-related questions you've been afraid to ask. Equal parts cheat sheet and cheerleader, How to Eat a Lobster not only shows you how to open a coconut—it shows that you can!

ASHLEY BLOM is a food writer and blogger in Austin, Texas. She's been featured in Buzzfeed, the Emerson Review, FamilyFun, Blast Bombshell online, the Brattleboro Reformer, and more. She blogs at Quarter Life (Crisis) Cuisine and Forking Up. LUCY ENGELMAN is a freelance illustrator in Michigan. Her work has appeared everywhere from Bon Appétit to DesignSponge.

Secret Lives of the U.S. Presidents

Strange Stories and Shocking Trivia From Inside the White House

MORE THAN 150,000 COPIES SOLD!
A REDESIGNED AND REJACKETED
QUIRK FAVORITE, NOW WITH 2016 ELECTION RESULTS.

by Cormac O'Brien

This updated and redesigned edition of Secret Lives of the U.S. Presidents features outrageous and uncensored profiles of our commanders in chief—complete with hundreds of little-known, politically incorrect, and downright wacko facts. You'll discover that:

- Teddy Roosevelt was blinded in a White House boxing match
- John Quincy Adams loved to swim naked in the Potomac River
- Gerald Ford once worked as a Cosmopolitan magazine cover model
- Warren G. Harding gambled with White House china when he ran low on cash
- Jimmy Carter reported a UFO sighting in Georgia

With chapters on everyone from George Washington to President #45, whoever he (or she!) may be, Secret Lives of the U.S. Presidents tackles all the tough questions that other history books are afraid to ask: Which president claimed that God struck down Abraham Lincoln on purpose? How many of these folks were cheating on their spouses? And are there really secret tunnels underneath the White House? American history was never this much fun in school!

CORMAC O'BRIEN is also the author of Secret Lives of the First Ladies (Quirk, 2005) and Secret Lives of the Civil War (Quirk, 2007). He lives in New Jersey.

The Spectacular Sisterhood of Superwomen

Awesome Female Characters from Comic Book History

“Don't laugh too loud,
or she's liable to burn
out your eyes with
her laser powers.”

by Hope Nicholson

Sure, you're familiar with Wonder Woman and Batgirl. But what about Tomboy, the sweet teen-aged gal-next-door by day and masked crook-pummeler by night? Or the Jaguar, an exchange student from Brazil coping with both feral animal powers and baffling American culture? Or Street Angel, the 13-year-old skateboarder who outfights ninjas and outsmarts demons?

From tough-talking detectives and sarcastic social critics to cape-wearing crimebusters and ordinary teenagers, female protagonists have filled just about every role there is in comics. Yet too few have achieved the high-level pop-culture status of their male counterparts. Now is the time to give these successful, but largely unknown, characters their due, proving that not only do strong female protagonists belong in comics, but they've always been there. With vintage art, publication details, and enthusiastic commentary, comics publisher and researcher Hope Nicholson brings these lost ladies of the comics world back to life.

HOPE NICHOLSON is the owner and founder of Bedside Press, specializing in archival and anthology comics collections. Named one of Flare magazine's Top 30 Female Entrepreneurs in Canada, she has been featured in the Winnipeg Free Press, Toronto Star, the Globe & Mail, Comics Alliance, Bleeding Cool, Comic Book Resources, and io9.

The Legion of Regrettable Supervillains

Oddball Criminals from Comic Book History

“THE DEATH RAY WILL CONQUER THE WORLD! I, DR. DRACULA, WILL BE GOVERNOR OF AMERICA!”

by Jon Morris

Heroes need villains, and that’s especially true in the good vs. evil world of superhero comics. But not every super-crook can achieve the status of a Lex Luthor or Doctor Doom. In The Legion of Regrettable Supervillains, author Jon Morris examines the changing face of villainy in comics, presenting 100 of the sorriest, strangest, most stupefying supervillains to ever see print. Vintage comic book art and Morris’s hilarious commentary introduce you to such rogues and felons as Brickbat (choice of weapon: poisonous bricks), Robbing Hood (steals from the poor to give to the rich), and Swarm (a man made of bees—Nazi bees!). Drawing on the entire history of the medium, The Legion of Regrettable Supervillains includes characters that haven’t seen the daylight in decades.

A cartoonist and graphic designer, JON MORRIS is the author of The League of Regrettable Superheroes (Spring 2015), which sold nearly 20,000 copies in its first six months. Since the late 1990s, he’s operated the blog Gone & Forgotten, an irreverent, in-depth look at the worst, the lowliest and most unfortunate stories and characters comic books have offered.

Warren the 13th and the Whispering Woods

A Novel

EVERYBODY LOVES WARREN!

“An engaging mystery to unravel, with a few nice twists and surprises along the way.”—New York Times Book Review

“Stylish, exciting, funny, and just slightly macabre, this entertaining novel bodes well for Warren’s future adventures.”—Publishers Weekly

“Just the ticket for fans of Unfortunate Events in dim corridors and murky subterranean chambers.”—Kirkus Reviews

written by Tania del Rio illustrated by Will Staehle

This sequel to Warren the 13th and the All-Seeing Eye begins soon after the first book’s conclusion. Twelve-year-old Warren has learned that his beloved hotel can walk, and now it’s ferrying guests around the countryside, transporting tourists to strange and foreign destinations. But when an unexpected detour brings everyone into the dark and sinister Malwoods, Warren finds himself separated from his hotel and his friends—and racing after them on foot through a forest teeming with witches, snakes, talking trees, and mind-boggling riddles. Once again, you can expect stunning illustrations and gorgeous design from Will Staehle on every page—along with plenty of nonstop action and adventure!

TANIA DEL RIO is the author of Warren the 13th and the All-Seeing Eye (Quirk, 2015). A professional comic book writer and artist, her clients include Archie Comics, Dark Horse, and Marvel. She is best known for her work writing and drawing the 42-issue run of Sabrina the Teenage Witch. She lives in Los Angeles. WILL STAEHLE illustrated and designed Warren the 13th and the All-Seeing Eye, plus dozens of award-winning book jackets. Print magazine named him one of the Top Twenty under Thirty New Visual Artists. He lives in Portland, Oregon.
