Question #1: Where and when do you read?

I usually read every day when I am in bed and before I get asleep. It is a routine, that I like to keep.

Question #2: Which book have you most given as a present?

As far as I can remember, the book I have given as a present the most is NADA by Carmen Laforet. It was published in Spanish at the end of the 40s and it gives a very clear picture of Barcelona in post-civil-war times

Question #4: Tell us the resolutions you have made for this year.

I have always been very careful with everything that has to do with the human impact on earth. But right now, I think it is more important than ever. So my resolution this year is trying to recycle more and better and produce less waste.
