COLD OUTSIDE

by Luigi Ballerini
illustrations by Paolo Domeniconi

Outside it's snowing, and everything is cold and white. Inside it's hot, and a child can't go out because he has a high fever. Mum is there for him, though, with a beautiful surprise.

Stunning illustration and essential text create a soothing whole, with a lyrical back-and-forth between opposites – fever and snow, heat and cold, inside and outside – leading up to a final embrace.

Cold outside. White outside.
Red cheeks. Hot inside.
High fever, Mummy says.

THE RED HOOD

by Agostino Traini

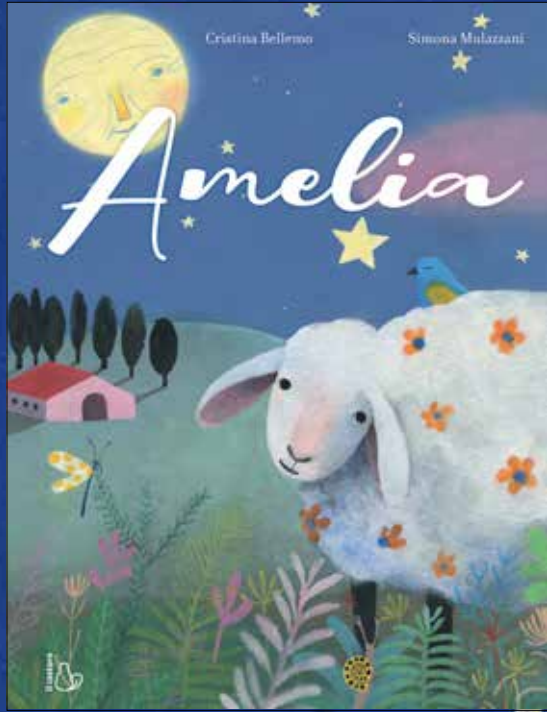

Once upon a time there was... a lovely, brave girl with a stylish red hood, and a wolf who badly wanted the hood to impress the wolf-princess he was in love with. The girl had a (very sporty!) grandma who fell into a mountain lake and came down with a dreadful cold. How will the wolf take possession of the hood? Will he devour its owner or think up some other trick?

A retelling of the timeless fairy tale in a graphic novel format, where everyone ends up living happily ever after!

AMELIA

by Cristina Bellemo illustrations by Simona Mulazzani

Amelia lives a quiet life, grazing in a sunlit meadow with her sheep pals. Early one evening she looks up and sees something shining high up in the sky: it's the first star to come out, and what a beauty it is! In order to stay there gazing at it, Amelia will spend a magic-filled night outdoors, making lots of discoveries and even changing deep within herself – but how, exactly?

Never be afraid of the unknown! With a little curiosity and courage, we can all discover the magic around us.

MR. CLUMP AND MR. NEAT

by Fabrizio Silei
illustrations by AntonGionata Ferrari

Mr. Clump is messy and creative, with a huge mop of hair; Mr. Neat is meticulous, elegant, and a lover of rules. They have nothing in common, other than the fact that they both teach in the same school. But while each has his own style, both give the best of themselves to their young students. When Ms. Moonglow, a lovely new teacher, joins the team, Clump and Neat start to wonder: which of them is “better”?

There are plenty of good ways to teach. And to learn!

MY CAT'S NAME IS ODIN

by Francesco Bedini illustrations by Stefano Tambellini

Aldo is 11 and crazy about comics. He and his friends, Arnie and Ian, have even set up their very own Comics Club, sure that it'll be the perfect screen once the time comes for them to save the world. Between them and glory is Petra, Aldo's 7-year-old cunning, determined little sister. One dark, stormy night things get complicated when a one-eyed cat shows up at their front door. They decide to adopt him and name him Odin, completely unaware that inside the kitten hides his namesake: the great, mighty, hot-tempered Norse god, whose final battle, Ragnarök, is about to begin.

A four-volume series perfect for lovers of mythology and cats, and for those who don't know that they're heroes.

THE CROSSING

by Francesco D'Adamo

One stormy night, a boat sinks near the coast. The frightened castaways disembark and flee, leaving a backpack on the shore that belongs to young Omar. Ezechiele, an old fisherman, decides to cross the sea accompanied by his grandson and his dog, Spaghetti, to return the backpack to Omar's mother and reassure her that her child has reached land safe and sound. For Ezechiele, it is imperative to make the journey, both in the name of humanity and to acknowledge the importance of small gestures. It may be a strange undertaking; it may end up in vain. But it's necessary – and heroic.

An inspiring modern-day fable that will touch all who read it. A journey between reality and dreams.

MUSTANG

by Marta Palazzesi

Texas, 1850. Robb is 13 and furious that his parents have dumped him at his uncle's cotton plantation in order to go off and seek their fortunes. He decides to prove to everyone what he's made of: he'll catch a mustang, one of the untameable wild horses that are creating panic on nearby plantations. Only with the help of Ako, a spirited Native American girl, and Aimery, a plantation slave and his childhood friend, will Robb be able to find his future.

A breathtaking adventure story about a boy's search for freedom, set against the backdrop of slave plantations and conflict between Native Americans and white settlers.

WORDS CAN DO ANYTHING

by Silvia Vecchini and Sualzo

Sara isn't much of a talker. Too much has happened – the accident, her parents' separation, the fight with her best friend – and something's blocked inside her. Then fate brings an unexpected teacher into her life: the elderly Mr. T., with his ageless stories and passion for the Hebrew alphabet, which Sara begins to study. Is he just a crazy old man? Possibly. But thanks to those mysterious alphabet letters, an odd clay creature enters Sara's life. And with it, slowly but surely, words return to her – the ones that count most in life: friendship, family and possibly even love.

For all the shy teens out there, who are dying to shout out to the world.

TWO DETECTIVES AND A DACHSHUND

by Enrico Marigonda illustrations by Gabriele Scarafia

Arthur is an avid reader of detective stories and has just on goal: to solve crimes and bring the guilty to justice, along with his loyal dachshund, Poirot. So when a newcomer, Agatha, arrives he can't believe his luck: not only is she just as enthusiastic about mysteries as he is, she's also the daughter of Vasquez, the world-famous detective! The two quickly become inseparable... and just in time! Arthur's best friend, has been falsely accused of committing a "stinky" crime. Arthur, Agatha and Poirot rush to his aid, ready to unearth the truth using just the right blend of smarts, bravery and... (a dog's!) sense of smell!

MERRY-GO-ROUND

by Sergio Rossi
illustrations by Agnese Innocente

Inspired by Arthur Schnitzler's eponymous play, Merry-Go-Round is a cycle of ten episodes, each featuring two teen protagonists, one of whom will reappear in the following episode and so on. The characters are typical teens, looking for love and trying to figure out their place in the world: they stumble, fall, and pick themselves back up while arguing, telling fibs, and revealing the most secret sides of themselves. Missed appointments, love triangles, secret stories, parties, suspected pregnancies: here are the intensely-felt everyday lives of a group of 16-year-olds, depicted with delicacy and thoughtfulness.

Love in the times of WhatsApp.

Follow a group of teens as they navigate their young lives.
