Gafarró's new Hat

Text and illustrations by Anna Font

Meraki, 2021, 38 page.

Winner of the Picture Book
Prize of the town of Térmens 2021

In this small and quiet village today seems to be a bad day. Mr. Tramontana, who doesn't like people at all, has gone out for a walk, convinced he won't meet anyone. But lo and behold, the town square is full to overflowing. When the wind starts blowing harder, it takes Mr. Tramontana's hat, and he's afraid the wind blows him away too.

He is lucky to have his neighbors, especially Verdecillo, the smallest boy of all.

A colorful book about friendship, neighborliness, cooperation, and coexistence.

The Truce

Text and illustrations by Toni Galmés

La Galera, fall 2022, 44 pages.

The Truce tells a real story of peace: one that happened at the front during the First World War, on Christmas eve of 1915. The war stopped for some hours and the English and German soldiers played a football match.

Toni Galmés (Manacor, Mallorca 1983) combines his career as an illustrator with teaching Theater History at the University of Barcelona (UB).

His illustrations draw from many sources: from cinema and comics, but also from 19th and 20th century illustration. Currently he is working on the comic Molly & Carson.

A very inspiring story, quite impossible but true, that makes us think that above all, humanity is the main thing.

Twelve Dogs

Bernardo Atxaga
Illustrations by Mikel Valverde

Alfaguara, 2021, 64 pages.

Sample translation available!

Minka has a beautiful name and twelve dogs - can you believe it?

While you find out if it's true, you will learn to listen with your heart and realize that sometimes it takes a little effort and imagination to understand other people. A delicate story about integration and diversity.

Una vez más, hubo burlas y risas en el aula.
La profesora no sabía qué hacer.
Minka esperó a que se callaran. Entonces, riéndose, dijo en voz muy alta:
—¡¡¡Tontos! ¡Doce perros, no! ¡Dos, sí!
—Entonces ¿por qué dijiste que tenías doce? —preguntó un niño.
—Porque antes yo no sé números.
Sin dejar de reír, Minka le sacó la lengua. «¡Pero ahora sí sé!,
eso era lo que significaba el gesto.

Bernardo Atxaga is one of the most important basque writers of our times. He has been awarded numerous prizes (only last year he won the Liber Prize 2021) and his works have been translated into 32 languages. He writes wonderful fiction for adults and children.

Little ones get to know one of the great voices of Spanish-language literature through this picture book!

Imanol knows for sure: there is a lion in the supermarket. As his mother doesn't believe him and nobody seems scared, he decides to keep an eye on the lion. The beast has planned to eat children in one bite.

Will Imanol manage to save everyone from the lion?

Mikel Valverde was born in Vitoria-Gasteiz. He created, among others, the illustrations for the books of the pirate Pepe or the little dog Shola (by SM). After receiving the International Illustration Prize from the Santa María Foundation in 2005 for the book Paula en Nueva York, he began to write his own stories. He is the author and illustrator of the longseller book series Rita.

A fun story, jaunty rhymes and a creative and crafty hero.

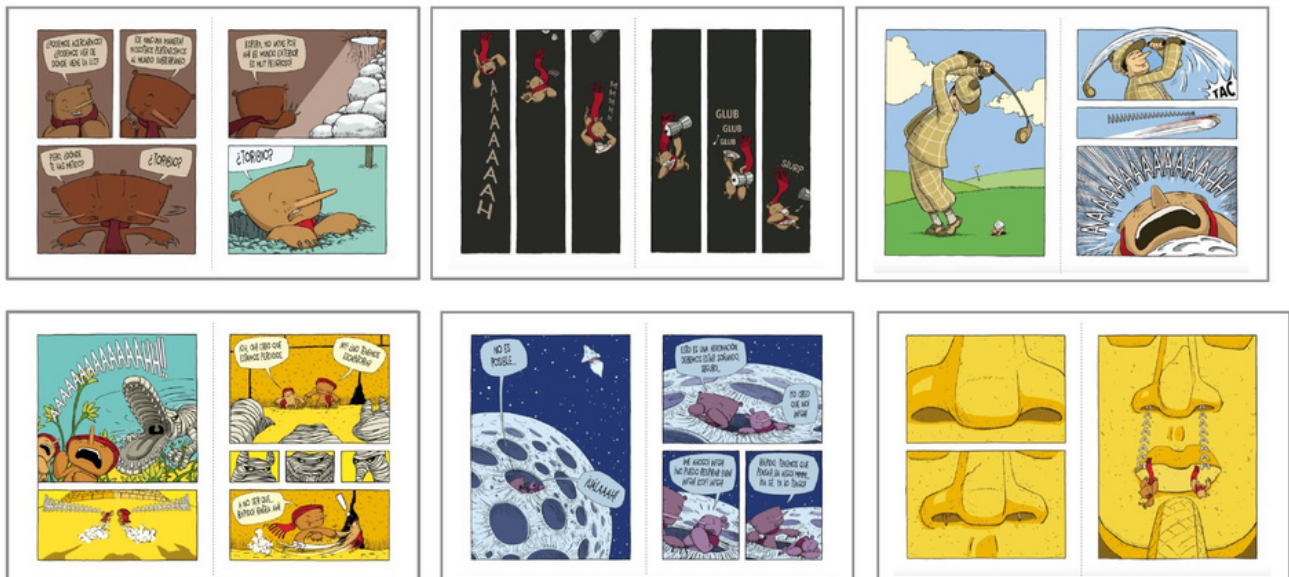

The wormhole adventure

Nono Granero

Babulinka Books, 2021, 104 pages.

Tomás and Toribio are friends and embark on a great adventure. Through wormholes they travel to incredible worlds and discover amazing things! A fast-paced, hilarious story that tells us how we accompany each other, how we help each other, how we face unexpected problems. And with a fundamental question that comes up at the end:

if you knew that by making a specific decision certain things would happen, some of them pleasant, but others not... what would you do? Would you decide to live that adventure anyway, or would you prefer not to leave your wormhole?

A great introduction of comics to early readers, mixing fiction and non-fiction.

Ru is thirteen, has two older brothers who make her life impossible, a hypercritical father, a compulsive chattering mother and two inseparable best friends without whom the world would be hell. And then there is Sami, the high school classmate who has a crush on her... Ru only dreams of running away with him and to live on a horse ranch in the United States. But, to get there, she needs money, so she decides to look for a job doing whatever it takes.

So, she's just a normal girl, right? At least this is how she describes herself when she decides to look for her first job as a babysitter. But what exactly is normal?

Six stories, in which Ru, aka "Normal Girl", tries out different jobs: After babysitting, she gets into photography, dog sitting, reading to the elderly, painting, and guiding tourists.

Two crazy years of almost-adult life and finding out what's "normal".

Womanhaus

Dakota Hernández

Bululú, 2022, 152 pages.

For women, the textile workshop was the gateway to the Bauhaus. Some of them remained there, turning the workshop into a research laboratory and elevating weaving to the status of a complete work of art. Others felt the call for something different and fought to be admitted to other workshops, becoming painters, photographers, graphic designers and product designers, architects, and engineers.

WOMENHAUS shows the different paths of these women to the Bauhaus, among them Anni Albers, Otti Berger, Lucia Moholy, Marianne Brandt, Friedl Dicker and Wera Meyer. We learn about their convictions, relationships, intentions, and successes, contextualized with the history and the special philosophy of life of the Bauhaus.

Dr. Bombard's Boat

Text by Oriol Canosa

Illustrations by Jordi Sunyet

Babulinka Books, 2020, 60 pages.

After a shipwreck with no incidents, Dr. Bombard floats in a boat in the middle of the ocean. Is that a tragedy or is it the opportunity to experiment a great adventure? He doesn't know. But he will have all the time to find out.

A poetic text full of thrilling moments. With illustrations that capture the immensity, the beauty, the solitude and also to the infinity of the ocean.

Dr. Alain Bombard was a doctor in a small fishermen village in the north of France who witnessed the deaths of shipwreck survivors that died because they did not have the knowledge and the temper to try to survive.

One day in 1952, he decided to get out to the ocean in a plastic boat and become a volunteer shipwreck survivor in order to convince the fishermen that, despite all the difficulties, surviving in the sea could be possible and they had to prepare for it.

He survived, and his books are inspiration to all of those who cross the waters of the ocean. This story is dedicated to him

The Suitcase is a collection of mini narrations that have as a common thread a banal object: a suitcase.

For more than a century (from 1890 until 2011) it passes through many hands. It is the silent witness of events and sociocultural changes humanity has experienced: industrialisation, migration waves, wars, rock & roll, vintage design... without being a part of them.

With a concise prose, objective illustrations and a flawless edition (each page is accompanied directly by the year), the book offers a convincing overview of the cultural evolution to whoever reads it, without lecturing or moral judgments.

With additional information in form of an explanatory chronology.

Catalan

“J.J. works in an office in a city and lives a monotonous and routined life, until one morning, he discover a crocodile under his bed that eats up his shoes. Confused, he goes to tell the butcher about it, who attributes his discovery-vision to working too much. It would also not hurt to get to know somebody...

Listening to the butcher, J.J. becomes aware of his situation and realises that he can't go around proclaiming that a crocodile lives under his bed.

“Admitting to a crocodile in your life is not easy. That is to say, there are many small and large changes one is forced to face.” That is indeed quite true, but above all J.J. wants to find a solution to his problem. He goes to see a doctor who, without flinching, listens to his ailment and prescribes the pertinent medicine: Cocodrifil tablets, suppositories Cocodritalidon and effervescent cocodritamine.

With direct language and drops of humor, the author narrates the vital anguish of a man to whom something happens that he simply cannot explain. The crocodile could be the distress that accompanies it, the loneliness, the depression and the lack of dreams. The change that occurs in the protagonist at the end, is no other than the acceptance of the crocodile, his crocodile. Because, just like Elena, the spontaneous young trainee from his office, tells him: “At this point, I would talk to him. That'd be the best. Either you make friends or he eats you.”

The result is, which is what happens with good children's texts, that this story admits and holds a wonderful second reading for adults.

Dune - Diary of a Summer

Text by Muriel Villanueva

Illustrations by Ferrán Orta Terré

Babulinka Books, 2015, 170 pages.

7th.
edition

Hi. My name is Duna and this is my summer diary.

I'm here with my two sisters in our grumpy grandfather's house. Mum left us in this white and blue village facing the sea and my teacher has set as homework to write about everything that happens to me before I begin high school. I can't deny it, it looked like it was going to be the most boring summer of my life.

But now, between the daredevil gang, my grandfather's secrets, and a super interesting boy I met in the forest, it seems that things are livening up. All indications are that this is going to be a special summer – a summer of discoveries, the kind that make you grow up.

Duna - Diary of another Summer

Text by Muriel Villanueva

Illustrations by Ferrán Orta Terré

Babulinka Books, 2019, 175 pages.

I started writing this diary two years ago and it seems to have become my secondbest friend. My first continues to be Max. Now that we're fourteen, our friendship has matured, but the love I feel for him is getting interesting and... a little complicated too.

Summer holidays is when you really grow up.
A very special coming-of-age novel.

Cueto Negro

Mónica Rodríguez

Lóguez, 2021, 176 pages.

Cecilia spends her weekends in the Pajares ski resort, in a hostel with her family. Driving to the mountains and seeing again the other kids staying at the hostel is the best part of winter. Snow and skiing on the slopes of Cueto Negro. But that weekend everything changes for Cecilia. The observation of the relationships of the grown-ups, the discovery of love and the harsh revelation she accidentally witnesses will transform her childish look forever.

"Cueto Negro is a novel about first love, the one that is never forgotten and that awakens desire. But, above all, it is a novel full of secrets. The ones that adults hide, the ones you keep to yourself and the ones that hurt you, but telling them can change everything, even if you lose your innocence along the way."

Gemma Cáceres, El templo de las mil puertas

"Mónica Rodríguez returns with another wonderful young adult novel. She masterfully narrates the passage of a girl from childhood to the adult world."

Un abrazo lector

"Progressively, as the fire revives from the embers in the fireplace, readers feel the warmth of the protagonist's feelings, a love that transforms her way of seeing the world. Memories, once again, turned into a moving narrative, a quality of Mónica Rodríguez's that has won over readers of all generations."

Canal lector

A coming-of-age novel full of tumultuous emotions.

No one knows for sure who he is or what the great master Li Po is like. But it is rumored that young people are looking to expand Kyoto society. What if you were one of the chosen ones?

Some time ago, the great oriental master Li Po settled in Barcelona. No one knows exactly where he came from, nor when he was born: he seems to be over a thousand years old.

Some say he is a man, others say she is a woman. There are people who say that he doesn't move on the floor, but on the ceilings. Now there is a rumor that Li Po has decided to expand the Kyoto Society, and that he is looking for young people capable of managing great powers. Powers that cannot fall into the hands of just anybody.

Joining Kyoto Society is not easy: if Li Po detects any special behavior or ability in you, he will send you an app on your mobile that will take you to its home, which is always in the Gothic Quarter, but never in the same place. Once there, you will have to pass certain exams enter an extraordinary world.

Asian mythology, modern technology, a secret society.
Li Po invites the misfits to join a great adventure.

A boarding school, literature as a compass and a surprising love story.

Following her parents' divorce, Irene is sent to a cliffside boarding school in the south of England. There she will experience her first disappointment in love with great pain, while at the same time gaining an unexpected mentor: Peter Hugues, the strictest teacher in the school, offers to teach her the "grammar of love" through seven great novels of the genre, from Goethe and Jane Austen to García Márquez and Murakami. Irene will gradually fall in love with her teacher, while another mysterious suitor secretly aspires to her heart.

Rocío Carmona (Barcelona, 1974) studied Humanities and Journalism in Barcelona. She is editor at Diana (Grupo Planeta) and writes regularly for the newspaper La Vanguardia about the human spirit. Besides The Grammar of Love, some of her best-known novels are Hannah's Heart, Robinson Girl (Jaén Prize for Young People's Literature in 2013) and What happened when you broke my heart.

About heartbreaks and the pain they cause, about the awakening to love through the power of literature.

Heima is Home in Icelandic

Laia Soler

Neo, 2014, 356 pages.

It's not a fun seeing life in black and white. Laura has a strange illness that prevents her from appreciating colours, but if life has been grey lately it's not just because she suffers from achromatopsia.

She's just broken up with her boyfriend and her parents haven't stopped fighting since their divorce. Because of this, she decides to get away from everything and jumps on the first plane leaving the airport.

Fate takes her to Reykjavik, Iceland. There she meets a nice guy called Orri, who suggests traveling around the country with him and his not so nice-friend Guðjon. It might not be the greatest idea, but it's not like Iceland has a lot of other options for a girl who's just run away from home.

What Laura would never have been able to guess is that these Icelanders are hiding a secret, one that even for someone like her is scarcely believable, and that this trip is going to change her forever.

Laia Soler is one of the best voices in Spanish juvenile literature. "Heima" is her great and unforgettable classic.

Snot: a Week or Seven Days

Text by Jaime Copons

Illustrations by Beatriz Castro

Duomo, 2019, 26 pages.

Children get a cold between five and twelve times a year.

This is what the doctor said to uncle Oscar:

- 1- Rest (to rest a lot and sleep good)
 - 2- Drinking a lot of water and liquids (soups, juices,...)
 - 3- Having a lot of tissues besides you
 - 4- If you have temperature or you feel bad, then take ibuprofen or paracetamol
- And patience. Lots of patience.

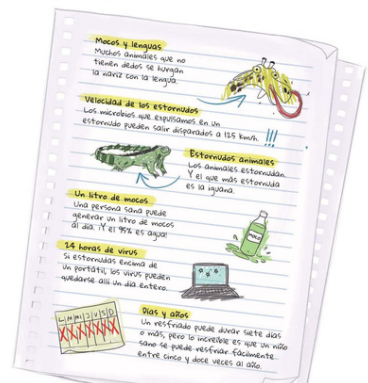

No solo estornudé. Tenía tos y entonces... ¡Entonces empezaron los mocos! Y mi tío, como no tenía hijos y no sabía nada de niños, se puso muy nervioso y llamó al médico.

Tras su explicación, Mucus dijo que se iba un rato y que no le dijera nada a mi tío, porque los mayores no creen en superhéroes. Y antes de irse me enseñó a hacer su saludo secreto.

Fue divertido porque con él me enteré de muchas cosas. Sin ir más lejos, resultó que Mucus quería decir «moco» en latín. Bueno, y en francés, y en italiano y en inglés...
