NOVELTY AND BOARD BOOKS

The Rainbow Snail

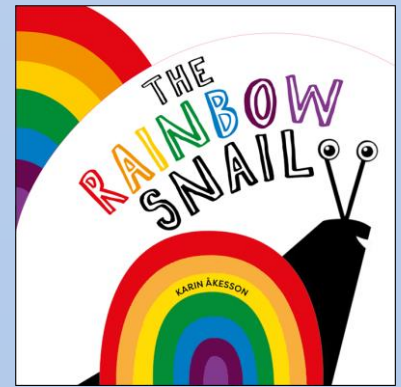

Karin Åkesson

ON SALE:	April 2025
Specs:	Board book
Extent:	18 pages, all in colour
Dimensions:	8 x 8 inches
Age range:	0-3
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	WIP PDF
US price:	$9.99

A strikingly-designed early learning die-cut board book introducing colors and a fabulous new character—the Rainbow Snail! Karin Åkesson’s beautiful artwork and easy-to-read text combine to create a wonderfully interactive book to teach toddlers colors and a charming read-aloud children’s book for ages 0–2 and up. Stick with the snail as it journeys through colorful surroundings, from black to the boldest colors of the rainbow!

Blue like the raindrops. Green like the soft grass. Yellow like the warm sun. This is the story of how the rainbow snail came to be. It takes sun and rain to make a rainbow, and what better combination of colors could there be?

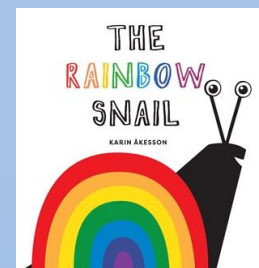

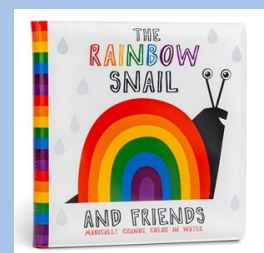

NEW DIE-CUT BOARD BOOK FORMAT: This new format for a classic picture book will reach a new generation of readers—perfect for smaller hands. As the pages are turned, this die cut board book reveals the colors of the rainbow.

Author Bio:

Karin Åkesson is inspired by her Swedish heritage and wants to emphasize the vibrant and sunny things in life. She creates and sells prints of her beautiful art, homeware, and stationery all over the UK and Europe. Her clients include the British Heart Foundation, The Guardian, The Independent, The Telegraph, Habitat, Saatchi and Saatchi, and Veuve Clicquot. The Rainbow Snail is her first original children’s book. Åkesson lives in East London, UK.

A fabulous Halloween gift book—packed full of skeletons dressed up to the nines and ready to party. Each spread features multiple pop-up spooky surprises as the skeletons prepare for the party night of the year!

Out beyond the peaty bog,
there's a haunted mansion
in a gloomy, green fog.

Skel-e-tons in party wear
are dressed to the nines
and gathered there,
For tonight's the night
the skeletons have their party!

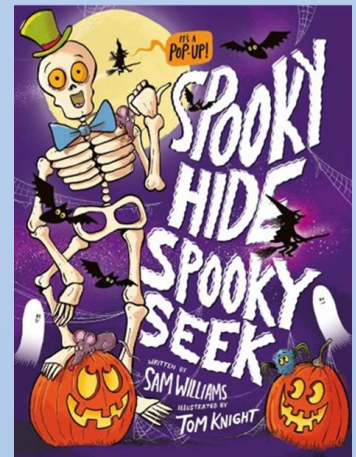

Can you spot the skeletons hiding in cupboards, treasure chests and drawers—even the teapot and the cookie jar? But what are the tentacles that creep through doorways and up through the floorboards? Is it possible that there's a monster hiding in the house? Each spread features multiple pop-up spooky surprises as the skeletons prepare for the party night of the year!

A high-spec pop-up book that would make a perfect seasonal gift—packed with humor, fun and a few puns along the way.

SEASONAL GIFT APPEAL: A perfect Halloween gift.

Life's Little Lessons: Muddy Hands, Clean Hands

Amber Stewart, illustrated by Sandie Sonke

ON SALE:	May 2025
Specs:	HC-PLC Picture Book
Extent:	32 pages
Dimensions:	8 x 8 inches
Age range:	3-5
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	PDF
US price:	$14.99

Life's Little Lessons is a series of six titles, exploring key topics in a young child's life. Muddy Hands, Clean Hands explores good dirt and bad dirt, and how to avoid passing on germs.

Rey is a complete whiz-kid, and her wheelchair is state of the art. She loves to play outside, splashing through puddles, and the neighborhood park. Rey's younger sister Emily is worried about germs— she hangs back and won't join in. At school, she learns about good dirt through gardening, the benefits of fresh air, and how this can stop you from getting sick. Together Emily and her friends learn about everyday hygiene and not sharing germs: catch a sneeze and toss it, wash your hands after using the bathroom, before eating, or helping in the kitchen. Knowing the difference between good dirt and how to avoid passing on everyday germs gives Emily the confidence to join in the fun.

EDUCATIONAL: Muddy Hands, Clean Hands teaches the reader how to avoid passing on germs, and also explores the difference between good dirt and bad dirt. This is an important topic and reinforces how to stay healthy. Great for use in classrooms or at home with parent or caregiver.

EXPERIENCED PRE-SCHOOL AUTHOR: Told with humor and empathy by an experienced preschool author, Life's Little Lessons taps into a gap in the market, telling and teaching through stories, with contemporary and vibrant artwork..

VIBRANT ARTWORK: The contemporary artwork is zinging with color and really brings the characters to life. The cast of children is diverse and inclusive, reflecting the multicultural society in which we live.

Author Bio:

Amber Stewart grew up in rural Dorset, England, and escaped as soon as she could to study Russian literature at the University of London. However, she never got over her childhood joy of reading Winnie-the-Pooh, and—since graduating many moons ago—she has enjoyed an ongoing career in children's publishing, as well as her own writing career. Amber now lives between Somerset and London with her family and other animals.

Sandie Sonke is a California State University Fullerton graduate, with a degree in studio art. She is a freelance illustrator, wife, and mom to two sweet and silly kids who inspire her daily. Sonke lives with her family in Southern California.

If A Monkey Ate Nothing But Bananas

Lillias Kinsman-Chauvet

ON SALE:	June 2025
Specs:	HC-PLC with a jacket
Extent:	32 pages, all in colour
Dimensions:	9 ½ x 10 7/8 inches
Age range:	3-5
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	WIP PDF
US price:	$18.99

Join Lillias Kinsman-Chauvet, author of Would You Dare Put a Diaper on a Bear?, as she explores various animals and their diets, introducing the idea of healthy eating for humans in a fun and accessible way.

If a monkey ate nothing but bananas, the buttons would pop off its pajamas (if it wore any!).

If a bear ate nothing but honey, its tummy would feel a bit funny!

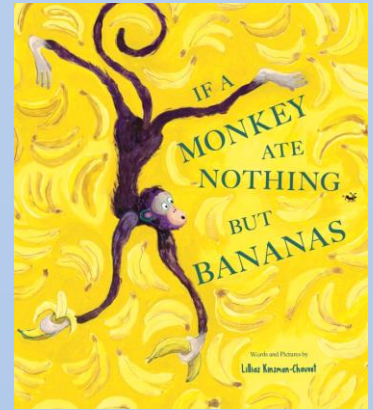

If a cat ate nothing but cream and a dog ate nothing but bones, there would be problems! And what about you? If you ate nothing but pizza and jelly..

Told in rhyme and full of humorous, energetic, and characterful watercolor art, this is a fun exploration of food - and what animals should or shouldn't eat.

FUN TO SHARE: Featuring rhyming text that is great for reading aloud, and enhanced by funny illustrations, this book will make everyone giggle and want to share the laughs.

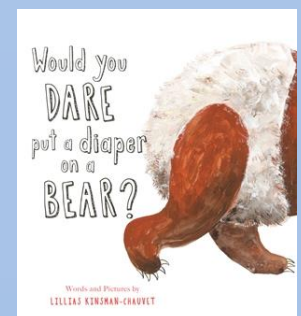

PICTURE BOOKS

Author Bio:

Lillias Kinsman-Chauvet is an author, an artist, and a musician. She manages to balance art, music, unschooling with two young children, and the building of a nature-directed, consent-based learning community. Lillias has a degree in music, and a postgrad in graphic design from University of the Arts, London. In 2012, Lillias cycled through Cuba researching screen-printing techniques. Lillias's first book for children, Would You Dare Put a Diaper on a Bear?, is also published by Boxer Books. Lillias works and lives with her family in Glasgow, Scotland.

This hilarious brand is coming to Boxer Books from former standup comic and script writer James O'Brien who illustrates using potatoes to make marvelous, bold, animal images, and has an established Instagram following as "Potato Printer."

Get ready for a kaleidoscope of big, bright, bold colors, as James O'Brien's distinctive potato-printed illustrations and funny quips help children navigate a range of feelings and emotions.

In this big book of funny feelings, animals talk about their feelings in a fun, relatable way—from feeling fabulous, or vain, to feeling joyful, calm, bored, joyful, frustrated, or even angry.

These great characters explore feelings with humor and pathos, building self-awareness and knowledge of the world. Each feeling is explored through the eyes of a particular animal, providing much scope for discussion between caregiver and child.

Author Bio:

James O'Brien is the founder of Potato Printer. He's an artist, an illustrator, and a comedy writer who uses humor (and potatoes) to create a daft world of funny animals who are trying their best at life. James has worked with the likes of H&M, IKEA, and Woodmansterne Greeting Cards to create very silly things for very silly people.

James was a part of the Atelier100 programme—an initiative established by the Ingka Group (the largest IKEA franchisee) to help inspire people to bring their innovative ideas to life. James likes to engage with his local community.

Crossing the Finish Line

Thushanthi Ponweera, illustrated by Maithili Josh

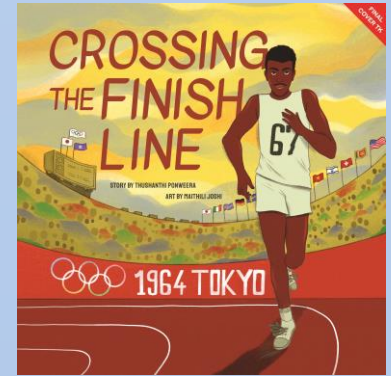

ON SALE:	June 2025
Specs:	HC-PLC Picture Book with a Jacket
Extent:	40 pages
Dimensions:	10 x 10 inches
Age range:	3-5
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	WIP PDF
US price:	$18.99

An inspiring nonfiction picture book about the courage and perseverance of 1964 Sri Lankan Olympian Ranatunge Karunananda, and the ways in which we define success.

Sri Lankan soldier Ranatunge Karunananda is the first runner to ever represent his country in the 10,000-meter race in the Olympic Games. Despite the lack of support and resources, Karu stands on the track in Japan, determined to represent Sri Lanka and his family well. As the race begins and the other runners lap Karu time and again, he presses on despite objections, winning not the race but the hearts of the 70,000-person crowd, and inspiring people across the world to stay steadfast in the race for their dreams.

UNCOMMON STORY ABOUT FAILURE: Thushanthi Ponweera's account of Karunananda's story defines failure and success in a way that upends our traditional understanding of both concepts, making CROSSING THE FINISH LINE a top choice among other athlete-centered books.

THEMES OF PERSISTENCE AND DETERMINATION: Karu's story is perfectly suited for discussions about persistence, determination, and the idea of personal success, making this a great tool for teaching children about how they can approach their own complications in life.

Author Bio:

Thushanthi Ponweera is a We Need Diverse Books (WNDB) 2021 mentee and a volunteer blogger for the same organization. Her debut middle-grade novel-in-verse, I AM KAVI, is forthcoming with Holiday House; her debut fiction picture book, RAINBOW BANGLES, is forthcoming with Simon & Schuster BFYR. She was born and raised in Sri Lanka. She invites you to visit her online at thushanthiponweera.com.

I Am Already Haunting Here

Gideon Sterer, illustrated by Charlie Mylie

ON SALE:	July 2025
Specs:	HC-PLC Picture Book with a Jacket
Extent:	32 pages
Dimensions:	9 x 11 inches
Age range:	3-5
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	WIP PDF
US price:	$18.99

This adorable Halloween story celebrates finding one's place in the world and making space for others, perfect for fans of Flavia Z. Drago's The World of Gustavo series.

A little ghost sets out into the world to find a place of his own to haunt, but it's not so easy! Every place he goes is already haunted by someone else. He perseveres and finally finds it—a dusty, creaky home, perfect for haunting. But then he hears a knock at the door. It's another little ghost in need of a place to roam. Will he scare the other ghost away or make room for a new friend?

PERFECT FOR THE LITTLEST TRICK OR TREATERS: This sweet story is custom made for the littlest Halloweeners who love the holiday but prefer a not-too-scary ghost tale.

EVERGREEN THEMES OF SOCIAL-EMOTIONAL LEARNING: Little ghost's quest to find his own place while also making room for a new friend will resonate with readers, educators, parents and caregivers.

THOUGHTFUL, ATMOSPHERIC ART: The evocative, moody palette is immersive and otherworldly, transporting readers into the little ghost's world. But it's not too scary – well-placed, warm pops of color welcome readers into the narrative.

Author Bio:

Gideon Sterer is a New York Times bestselling author who grew up in the woods of upstate New York. Not too far away, his parents owned a wildlife discovery center where he would run around after hours and let the animals out. Currently, he lives in the Hudson Valley with his family.

Charlie Mylie is a Kansas City-based illustrator who spent years performing as “Pop Up Charlie,” drawing on-the-spot watercolors by request across the country. Charlie works for The Rabbit Hole, an impending immersive children’s literature museum—where he creates visual conceptions for interactive exhibits, including a 100 year history panorama.

Creator Kam Redlawsk, a designer who suffers from a degenerative disease that has left her in a wheelchair, able to move only her head and hands, aims to redefine the conversation around disabilities in this story about a girl who begins to lose her physical abilities and gains insight into her changing world.

Yumi loved to run, climb, dance, skip, and hop all day. Then Monster appears outside her window, and she wants nothing to do with him. Yet day after day the furry creature with antlers and horns appears. And as the weeks pass, Yumi grows frail and scared. She blames Monster and decides to lose him in the woods. But when Yumi needs help, will she learn to rely on Monster and accept the new role he plays in her life?

PART ALLEGORY, PART AUTOBIOGRAPHY: Yumi & Monster is more than a decade in the making. IN 2012, after a fall that left her stranded and alone, Kam envisioned Monster as a cute yet imposing creature who personified her rare disease.

WILL INSPIRE CONVERSATIONS ABOUT PHYSICAL DISABILITIES AND DIFFERENCES: Yumi's experiences and emotions are accessible to the youngest readers and offer parents and caregivers an opportunity to prioritize discussing all kinds of physical differences.

Author Bio:

Kam Redlawsk is a multi-award winning disabled industrial designer, artist, rare disease and disability advocate, traveler, writer, consultant, and speaker, born in South Korea, raised in Michigan, thriving in California. She's also a Korean American adoptee. Kam is a self-taught artist. Yumi & Monster is her children's book debut as author and illustrator. You are invited to visit Kam at kamredlawsk.com.

From the author of HEDGEHOG AND THE LOG, here is a captivating new picture book about the passage of time and the magic of second chances.

Told from the perspective of the famous gold clock, this story follows the evolution of the Musée d'Orsay, from a revolutionary train station to one of the most popular museums in the world. The clock reflects on its place in the world and the disappointments, troubles, and hope that one faces, maintaining a kid-friendly approach and atmosphere all the while.

EVERGREEN THEMES: The themes of hope, determination, value, and second chances that drive this narrative will always be relevant and will provide the perfect conversation starter for caregivers, educators, and librarians.

EDUCATOR APPEAL: Pam Fong's masterful storytelling and careful attention to detail here is influenced by her extensive arts career and her years of living in Paris. The opportunity for brilliant backmatter along with the history of such a beloved masterpiece makes this an ideal title for educators.

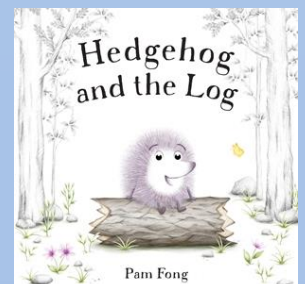

RISING STAR: With multiple books already published and on the way, including our own Hedgehog and the Log, Pam Fong is proving to be a rising and recognizable star in the children's book space.

Perfect for fans of modern classic tales like Jon Klassen's The Skull and Jon J. Muth's The Three Questions, here is a deep and satisfying tale about wishes and the wonder of the world.

Plip! Plop! Plip! The coins of every wisher fall down, down, down into the well, and at the bottom is a monster who must count them all. He longs to venture into the world and dreams of the day that might leave the well and become the richest monster. His lonely plight—and daring escape—will have readers reconsider their wildest wishes and embrace the beauty and wonder of all they take for granted.

A MOVING, MODERN CLASSIC: With a timeless protagonist and an everlasting concept, the emotional heart of this story will appeal to children and adults alike.

DYNAMIC PICTURE BOOK DUO: Gideon's captivating text pairs perfectly with Emily's whimsical illustrations to create a gorgeous picture book that is sure to hold the attention of readers and reviewers. Gideon and Emily are each award winners and hold numerous starred reviews and spots on the NYT Best Seller list.

IMPORTANT LESSONS FOR KIDS: Lessons in loneliness and taking things for granted are told with sensitivity and grace, perfectly balanced for young readers as they learn how to find gratitude and embrace the beauty and wonder of all things.

Spring 1975. Fourteen climbers from the Ladies Climbing Club in Japan begin their climb to Mount Everest. Junko Tabei, a mountain climbing pioneer—the woman who formed the group—faces many hardships as she leads them: frigid weather, gusting winds, an avalanche, injuries, altitude sickness, and a death-defying ice ridge crossing. Yet she perseveres, and when she reaches the summit of Mount Everest, she becomes the first woman—and the 36th person—to do so! Junko's story shows that determination triumphs over every obstacle, and her climb goes beyond her historical accomplishment—as of June 2020, she has inspired 630 females to follow in her footsteps. Backmatter includes more information about Junko's life and her remarkable achievements.

COMPELLING READ: While providing information about Junko's past and the impact she left on the world, this story is also an unputdownable read about a harrowing climb, full of twists and turns.

FEMALE EMPOWERMENT: Junko was passionate about empowering women. She defied cultural expectations for women, who, at the time, were mostly expected to be homemakers.

TIMELY THEMES OF ENVIRONMENT AND PRESERVATION: Junko was dedicated to protecting and preserving wild places.

An ordinary boy must find his inner hero in this hilarious, action-packed debut middle-grade graphic novel filled with jokes, friendship, incompetent villains, and lots of heart.

Orin's life is uprooted when he discovers that he is the reincarnation of a great hero, destined to defeat the evil Fiendlord. And he just may have a shot because, in the years since he conquered the world, the Fiendlord has become lazy and complacent. He sees Orin's appearance as motivation to finally get back in shape and relive his glory years, and hopefully regain the respect of his unimpressed teenage daughter. In need of a mystical sword if he's to stand a chance against the Fiendlord, Orin teams up with a precocious, entrepreneurial sorceress who's ready to launch Orin's career as the Champion of Draeland—which would be much easier if he didn't keep befriending the Fiends they're supposed to destroy.

Sequel contracted – publishing December 2027.

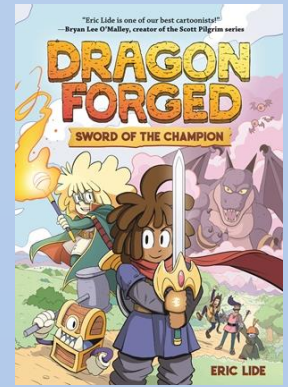

HIGHLY APPEALING ART: The bright palette, expressive characters, and dynamic panels are pure delight.

LOVABLE CHARACTERS: Orin's kindness and struggles with confidence make him impossible not to love, and the secondary cast of friends and "enemies" is highly colorful and memorable.

HILARIOUS TWIST ON CLASSIC TROPES: Every scene is packed with kid-friendly irreverence that's sure to have the 8–12 set giggling.

TALENTED DEBUT CREATOR: Eric Lide is a highly gifted Black cartoonist whose star is ready to rise with this broadly appealing author-illustrator debut.

A specter is haunting the Atlantic!

After growing up together on the luxurious SS Lark, Neeta Pandey and Emery Botwright are ready to start their lives. Emery wants to follow in his father's footsteps and sail the Lark forever, while Neeta yearns to travel the world. But neither will have any future at all if the Lark's new owner, Mr. Honeycutt, has his way.

Mr. Honeycutt . . . The first-class passengers adore him, while he makes the ship a nightmare for the crew. Twisted by unnatural appetites, the rich are actually transforming into something less than human, and their insatiable demands soon push the staff toward a—quite literal—burnout.

Something otherworldly is undeniably aboard the SS Lark, something horribly hungry. But it's not Wick Farley: vampire, secret agent, and paranormal investigator. Alone and at sea, with only Neeta and Emery to help him, he must uncover the truth about Mr. Honeycutt. And fast—before a ravenous craving for power consumes them all.

Taylor Robin's debut graphic novel is a thrilling supernatural adventure told in crackling, vibrant colors..

Sequel contracted – publishing June 2026.

Rights sold: French.

DYNAMIC WORLD-BUILDING: The intrigue and backstory of the teen characters and the moody setting create a world teen readers will not have seen before in the graphic novel space and that they will love to dig into.

CONTEMPORARY THEMES: Hunger's Bite explores ideas about sexual identity, class privilege, and growing into adulthood—all themes important to today's teen readers.

Author Bio:

How the Grinch Stole Christmas meets Ren & Stimpy in this graphic novel about confronting your emotions, perfect for kids who love the fun weirdness of the Catwad and Bird and Squirrel series.

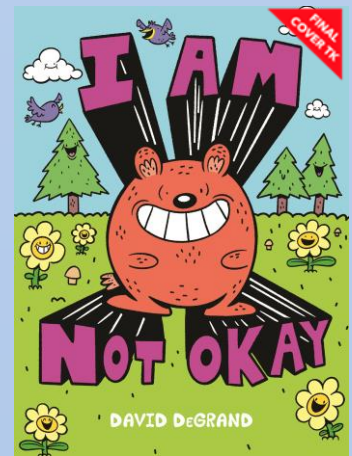

All the woodland creatures of Happy Forest (where even trees and flowers smile) go to Fluff Nugget, a fluffy, round critter of indeterminate species, when they need cheering up--he just sings them the "Goodbye Grumpy Grumps" song and they feel happy again! But when this happens too much...like, WAY too much...it starts to wear on Fluff Nugget, until he feels grumpier than anyone. After he lets loose a cry of "I AM NOT OK!" Fluff Nugget and his woodland friends must figure out a better way to boost the mood. Will the Happy Forest ever be the same again?

HUMOR-FORWARD GRAPHIC NOVEL: "I Am Not OK" puts weird, silly fun first, in a way kids appreciate from cartoons like SpongeBob SquarePants, Adventure Time, and Gravity Falls.

UNIQUE ART STYLE: The book is a fun-house trip into a fantasy world that's both cute and a little intense. David DeGrand's art reaches kids where they live in his debut as author and illustrator of a graphic novel.

SOCIAL-EMOTIONAL TAKEAWAYS: Fluff Nugget's conundrum, trying to appear upbeat while growing more exhausted, is a reflection of the pressures on kids and adults. His carving out a niche for himself at the end feels like a triumph.

NEW FORMAT: Graphic novels are an expanding category, and a short, breezy humor GN for kids with a strong point of view will break new ground.

Author Bio:

David DeGrand is a cartoonist who has illustrated numerous kids books, including The Zombie Chasers series, The World of Weird Animals series, and a book of gross tongue twisters, Twisted Tongues. He has also written and illustrated for numerous comic book titles such as SpongeBob Comics, The Simpsons, Garfield, Adventure Time, Rocko's Modern Life, Uncle Grandpa, and Pig Goat Banana Cricket. He recently designed the animated series Death Hacks for Augenblick Studios and is currently working on a graphic novel for First Second. He is based in Texas, US.

For fans of Sheets, here is a middle-grade graphic novel tale of understanding, compassion, and friendships that cross the line between life and death.

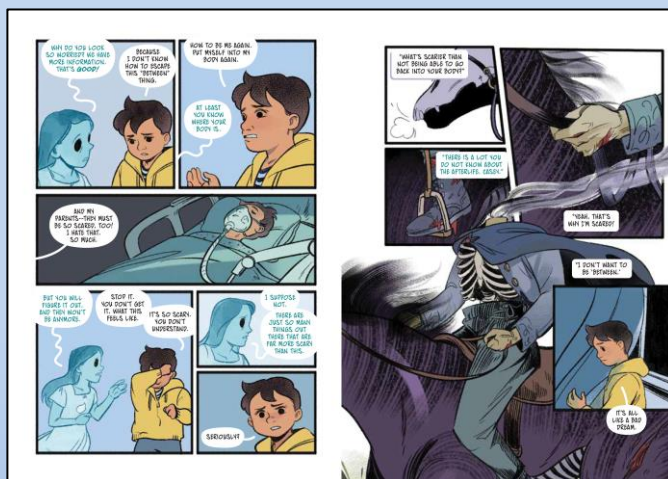

Casey is a young boy wandering the world as a spirit . . . but he's not dead, as far as he knows. Stumbling upon the Ghost Circus, a bizarre traveling show filled with phantom performers who entertain other ghosts, Casey meets Creepy Girl, a ghost who cannot move on, and Polterghost, a silent sheet ghost. The three strike up a tentative friendship, and realize that none of them truly fit in at the circus. Sensing a common cause, Casey and Creepy Girl agree to work together to find out why Casey has crossed over to the ghost realm, and what happened in Creepy Girl's past that is holding her back. But as they investigate, they discover that the Ghost Circus itself is not all that it seems, and a bigger mystery is at hand. Will the spectral trio be able to free the souls trapped in the Circus, or will they all go down in the end?

Author Bio:

Adrienne Kress is a Toronto-based playwright, actor, and author of many books for middle grade and young adult readers, including three novels for Scholastic based on the horror-survival video game "Bendy".

Jade Zhang is a queer Chinese-Canadian illustrator and comic artist based in Toronto. Past publications include "Storyteller: Tricksters" with BOOM! Studios, "Cyclic" with Augur Magazine, and "First Sight"--a self-published comic. She is also the author of the upcoming graphic novel The Last Giant.

Champion of Earth - GO-MAN Series

Hamish Steele

ON SALE:	August 2025
Specs:	HC-PLC with Jacket/ PB with flaps
Extent:	224 pages, all in colour
Dimensions:	6 x 8 ½
Age range:	8 – 12
Rights:	WORLD excluding France, Italy and Poland
Material available:	Sample artwork
US price:	$24.99 / $14.99

Eisner award-winning author Hamish Steele lends his personal experience growing up autistic in this heartfelt and action-packed adventure series about a boy and his dream to battle giant monsters for fans of manga, Godzilla-style stories, and popular culture icons like The Power Puff Girls and My Hero Academia.

Lonely latchkey kid Tobi dreams of growing up to fight the giant monsters that plague his city, just like his dad, but when he stumbles upon the power to turn into the colossal superhero, Big Boy, he realizes he's been wishing his childhood away. Big Boy Now is an action-packed, highly-bingeable middle grade adventure series about how one kid overcomes the differences that set him apart from his classmates in order to make friends and save his city. It's also, at its heart, a story about an autistic kid overcoming neglect in his home

This is not just your ordinary superhero story. The superhero element in BIG BOY NOW is a metaphor for masking, the camouflaging behavior that many autistic people employ to suppress their identity to conform with those around them. As a superhero, Tobi is more popular than ever! But this masking effort drains him of all of his energy, making him retreat into his bedroom for days.

Tobi's goal is to become someone who doesn't need his superhero side anymore. He must ultimately learn to love himself as he is, find friends who appreciate him for himself, and finally enjoy being just a kid before it's too late.

Sequel contracted – publishing August 2026.

COMMERCIAL APPEAL: Manga is one of the top-selling categories for graphic novels, and middle grade graphic novels continue to sell steadily after seeing a recent surge. Subtle nods to the Powerpuff Girls, Godzilla, Steven Universe, Gravity Falls, Power Rangers, and classic manga keep Go-Man relevant while adding much needed neurodiversity to the genre.

Author Bio:

Hamish Steele (he/they) is a freelance animation director and illustrator who grew up surrounded by legends, myths, and folktales. Since graduating from Kingston University in 2013, Hamish has worked for the BBC, Cartoon Network, Disney, and Nickelodeon, among others. He is the creator of and showrunner for the Netflix series Dead End: Paranormal Park, based on his graphic novel series, DeadEndia, and the Eisner Award-winning creator of the graphic novel Pantheon. Dead End: Paranormal Park has been nominated for a GLAAD Award and won the Marvels of Media award for animation, an award that celebrates autistic creators.

For fans of Catwad and The First Cat in Space, here is a hilariously over-the-top middle-grade graphic novel about a cat and his genius hairball who accidentally destroy the universe.

Huck does NOT like change. In fact, he lives the same day on repeat. Same canned cat food. Same indoor luxury. Same time spent with his brainy, yet insecure, best friend Hairball—a damp lump of hair that Huck hacked up.

But when Hairball invents a time machine in hopes of gaining the respect of the scientific community, Huck accidentally sets in motion a series of events that breaks the universe and ruins his string of unchanging days. Oops. With the end of the world in balance, it's up to these unlikely heroes to save it. What they find out is that the key to saving the world is also what they want most of all...

Cartoonist Rich Moyer's wacky take on time travel along with the charming duo he's created add up to a graphic novel that's perfect for kids searching for a good laugh. And it's all delivered in vibrant colors and energetic panels--making HUCK 'N' HAIRBALL a rip-roaring good time.

HUMOR THAT DEFIES AGE RANGES: The humor in Huck 'N' Hairball will appeal to a wide audience, capturing the attention and laughs of middle grade readers along with adults who are fans of shows like Rick and Morty.

CLASSIC BUDDY ADVENTURE STORY: Buddy adventures are popular in the graphic novel space but are found most often in the young MG market. Huck 'N' Hairball takes this beloved trope and spins it for a slightly older audience while maintaining all of the humor and friendship found in books for younger kids.

Julie Murphy, #1 New York Times bestselling author of Dumplin', brings her signature warm positivity and message of empowerment to her chapter book debut: a series about a big-hearted girl who is half-human, half-cat.

Introducing Catty! She's a confident second grader who happens to be half-cat, like her mother and grandmother. In this series debut, Catty hits a few rough patches at her new school. So she turns to her fuzzy diary—AKA her “scratch pad”—where she shares her big feelings and documents her adventures. Luckily for Catty, this special diary sometimes writes back with helpful advice. Before long, Catty is making friends and learning to love her new school.

A BLEND OF POPULAR CHAPTER BOOK GENRES: Catty Corner combines the character-driven charm of chapter book mainstays like the Junie B. Jones and Ivy & Bean series with fantasy-lite series like Mia Mayhem and Dory Fantasmagory.

THE PAGE-TURNING APPEAL OF DIARY-DRIVEN STORYTELLING: Early chapter book readers adore stories with diary/journal features, like those featured in the popular Owl Diaries, Unicorn Diaries, and Diary of a Pug series. Catty's magic-tinged diary offers readers more complex storytelling in a familiar format.

Author Bio:

Julie Murphy lives in north Texas with her husband who loves her, her dog who adores her, and her cats who tolerate her. After several wonderful years in the library world, Julie now writes full time. When she's not writing or reliving her reference desk glory days, she can be found watching made-for-TV movies, hunting for the perfect slice of cheese pizza, and planning her next great travel adventure. She is the #1 New York Times bestselling author of the young adult novels Dumplin' (now a film on Netflix), Puddin', Ramona Blue, and Side Effects May Vary. Dear Sweet Pea is her debut middle grade novel, and her picture book debut is Chubby Bunny.

Eve Farb is a Russian illustrator. She illustrated Clovis Keeps His Cool, Nelly's Books and Corgi State of Mind.

Holy macaroni! Someone is stealing tasty snacks and crafty food art at Friendswood elementary school. Luckily Catty Corner and her best friends, Jo and Bebe, are on the case. Soon they're following clues and tracking down leads. But the three friends can't agree on much—is it a ghost, some very hungry mice, or a sneaky thief with a big appetite known as the Gobbler Bandit? Can they catch the culprit before their school's big Meatball Mania fundraiser, or will it be a foodie fiasco?

Julie Murphy creates another unforgettable protagonist for a whole new audience! Voracious chapter book readers, looking for new series, will fall for the funny, fearless Catty, who faces each new adventure with humor and emotional honesty—learning when it's appropriate to pounce into action.

Book 3 Catty Corner Hits the Road publishing in February 2026.

The Graveyard Girls navigate celebrity psychics, messages from beyond the grave, and the continued mystery of Silas Hoke's missing bones in this devouring third installment by New York Times bestselling authors Lisi Harrison and Daniel Kraus.

It's the holiday season, but the Graveyard Girls are feeling the wrong kind of spirit . . .

Gemma is struggling to save the Spirit Sanctuary, while Whisper is reeling from her father's recent engagement announcement to Paisley's mother. Zuzu has taken on the assignment of town ghost whisperer, Frannie is looking for drama in her drama-less life, and Sophie is being haunted by a possessed doll. And through it all, the girls are getting electrifying messages from beyond the grave that may lead them to Silas Hoke's missing bones.

For a not-so-merry fright, Gemma tells a deliciously creepy tale that takes the lesson of "be careful what you wish for" to a whole new level.

COMPELLING GENRE MASHUP: This series is at the nexus of a wildly popular thriller genre, stellar writing by two powerhouse authors, and a fresh/contemporary sensibility.

STRONG, GIRL-CENTRIC STORYTELLING: These are stories about middle school girls with agency. Their issues, interests, and actions are relatable.

UNIQUE, RELATABLE CHARACTERS: Each story focuses on a different girl in the friend group, allowing readers to find a protagonist and point of view to connect with.

GENRE BLENDING: The combination of friendship stories and horror is an unexpected, exciting blending of genres.

A MULTITUDE OF LOYAL AUDIENCES AWAIT: Lisi Harrison and Daniel Kraus are two high-profile authors with loyal fan bases across genres and age groups.

Author Bio:

Lisi Harrison has written forty YA and middle-grade novels including the #1 New York Times bestselling series The Clique, which has sold more than eight million copies, and the Monster High series. Bad Badger: A Love Story

Maryrose Wood, Illustrated by Giulia Ghigini

ON SALE:	February 2025
Specs:	Trade HC and PB-Trade
Extent:	192 pages, B&W illustrations throughout
Dimensions:	5 1/2 x 8 1/4 Inches
Age range:	7 – 10
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	PDF
US price:	$18.99/ $9.99

For fans of Odder and Skunk and Badger comes a heartwarming story of an unlikely friendship between a terse seagull and a badger who is not very badgerish.

Septimus is not good at being a badger. He adores the sunset. He dreams of going to Venice. And he lives alone in a charming cottage by the sea. He's not unhappy with his tidy, solitary life, but there are times when being so bad at "badgerdom" makes him wonder if he's even a badger at all.

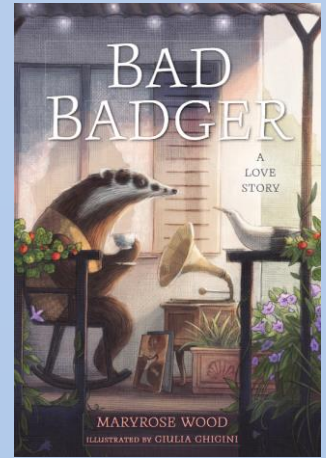

When a gull of very few words lands on the windowsill, Septimus leaps at the possibility of friendship. However, his new confidant soon goes missing and Septimus is bereft. Determined to find his best—and only—friend, he ventures into new territory and encounters a cast of surprising characters. Can Septimus be as brave and bighearted as he'll need to be to find Gully? Or is he really a bad badger after all?

Bad Badger is a young middle-grade novel about badgers, gulls, and learning that staying true to yourself means knowing who you are to begin with.

Sequel contracted – publishing February 2026.

EVERGREEN THEMES: An uplifting story of friendship that gently reminds readers that it is okay to be different.

EDUCATOR APPEAL: Use in classrooms, libraries, and homes to discuss social-emotional tools such as friendship and self-acceptance.

Author Bio:

Maryrose Wood is best known as the author of The Incurable Children of Ashton Place, the acclaimed middle-grade series about a teenaged governess and her three raised-by-wolves pupils. She's published young adult novels, too, as well as 2020's Alice's Farm, which was an NCTE Charlotte Huck Recommended Book.

Maryrose taught fiction writing at CUNY–Lehman College and NYU's Gallatin School, and she is proud to serve on the faculty of the Stony Brook University's Children's Literature Fellows program. She lives in Southern California.

Giulia Ghigini is an Italian illustrator whose clients include National Geographic Books, Wall Street Journal, Mondadori, Feltrinelli, Edison, Skoda, Ikea and Rolling Stone. She's collaborated with Cranio Creations, Santa Ragione, Letheia Games and Horrible Games on award-winning games such as Escape from the Aliens in the Outer Space and Horse Fever. She lives in Milan, Italy.

The A&A Detective Agency: The Grimthorpe Grave

K. H. Saxton

ON SALE:	September 2024
Specs:	HC- Trade Cloth and PB-Trade
Extent:	336 pages
Age range:	8-12
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	PDF
US price:	$16.99 / $8.99

How do you save a witch who's been dead for centuries?

Alex and Asha of the A&A Detective Agency are on the case! Summer is over, and Asha and Alex haven't had a decent case in months. But just as a chill begins to stir the air, and the autumn leaves start to turn, Dr. Wright from the Fairfleet Institute comes to them with a cryptic note, signed by "The Witch of Waverly College," about Hannah Grimthorpe, the notorious witch from Northbrook's colonial past.

This is the perfect case to reinvigorate Alex and Asha's interest in keeping up the agency, but distractions come their way as school activities divide their attention. When more clues appear and Dr. Wright is forced out of the Institute, the two detectives decide they are going to need help from their classmates to solve the mystery.

With sneaky adults out to thwart the kids' mission, shadows lurking in corn mazes and cemeteries, and a Halloween deadline looming to uncover the truth about Hannah Grimthorpe, it's a race against time and a lesson in who to trust for the young detectives of Northbrook.

Praise for The A&A Detective Agency: The Fairfleet Affair

"“[T]he intricate plot—jam-packed with brain teasers, convoluted twists, and red herrings—keeps readers in suspense while neatly paving the way for a sequel in Saxton's series-starting debut.”

—Publishers Weekly

DIVERSE CHARACTERS—Alex and Asha's world is populated with believable characters from a variety of cultural backgrounds.

EVER POPULAR PUZZLE MYSTERIES—Books like The Parker Inheritance, Greenglass House, and Mr. Lemoncello's Library series show that these types of mysteries are becoming increasingly popular among middle-grade readers.

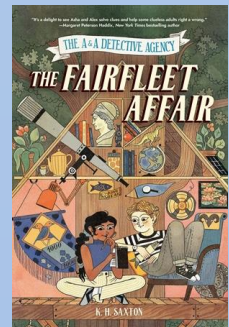

MIDDLE GRADE FICTION

Author Bio:

The Beat I Drum

Dusti Bowling

ON SALE:	April 2025
Specs:	HC-Trade Cloth with Jacket/ PB with Flaps
Extent:	272 pages
Age range:	10– 14
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	Unedited MS
US price:	$16.99 / $8.99

Endearing and authentic, THE BEAT I DRUM offers an empathetic look at a misunderstood syndrome, the therapeutic value of music, and the power of forgiveness.

Connor, beloved best friend of Aven Green from Insignificant Events in the Life of a Cactus, is dreading the first day of high school. Not just because he is new, or because he misses his best friends, but because he knows the other kids won't understand his barking and tics. Connor has Tourette Syndrome, and every day has been a challenge—from the mimicking to the laughing, the questions, and the stares. It turns out school isn't quite as bad as he expected. Connor forms a fast friendship with a girl who also has Tourette's and is welcomed into her accepting circle of friends. He also meets a special music teacher who encourages him to take up the drums to manage his stress, and maybe get a break from his tics. But Connor's world continues to be turned upside down by his father, who left the family a couple of years ago and is now trying to rekindle a relationship, and a school bully when things start to escalate at school. All these problems—with family, with friends, and even with himself—build and build until Connor feels ready to explode. Will a surprising revelation save him?

OPPORTUNITY FOR NEW READERSHIP —THE BEAT I DRUM is a standalone novel, making it a great new entry point into this world for those who haven't read the Cactus duology, and fans of Aven will love having new insight into her best friend.

DISABILITY REPRESENTATION —The character of Connor was inspired by Dusti's husband and two daughters who have tic disorders. The newly introduced character of Amanda is heavily inspired by her 17-year-old daughter's struggles with both Tourette Syndrome and obsessive-compulsive disorder, which frequently occur together. Her husband and children actively vet all her work and representation.

POTENTIAL HBO SERIES OR MOVIE —HBO has optioned the film and tv rights for Insignificant Events in the Life of a Cactus, where the character of Connor originated.

Author Bio:

Dusti Bowling is the award-winning, bestselling author of Insignificant Events in the Life of a Cactus, Momentous Events in the Life of a Cactus, 24 Hours in Nowhere, The Canyon's Edge, Across the Desert, Dust, and the Aven Green chapter book series.

Dusti's books have won the Reading the West Award, the Sakura Medal, a Golden Kite Honor, the William Allen White Children's Book Award, and have been nominated for over thirty state awards. Her books are Junior Library Guild Selections and have been named best books of the year by the Chicago Public Library, Kirkus, Bank Street College of Education, A Mighty Girl, Shelf Awareness, and many more.

Dusti currently lives in Arizona with her husband, three daughters, a dozen tarantulas, a gopher snake named Burrito, a king snake name Death Noodle, and a cockatiel named Gandalf the Grey.

The Thirteen Doors of Black House

Laura Lavoie

ON SALE:	May 2025
Specs:	Trade PB
Extent:	256 pages
Age range:	8 - 12
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	MS
US price:	$9.99

THE THIRTEEN DOORS OF BLACK HOUSE is Locke & Key meets Katherine Arden's Small Spaces meets Shirley Jackson's Hill House for readers ages 8-12.

Maya Murtagh can't wait to spend a week at Black House, a looming seaside mansion that was once home to her favorite mystery author, Augusta Black. But when Maya and her cousins arrive at the mansion, the host who greets them is totally creepy. So are the thirteen doors inside Augusta Black's old office, each one carved with an eerie symbol. Add in the unshakeable feeling that someone—or something—is watching her, and Maya becomes convinced: there's a mystery to be solved here, real. . . or supernatural.

What could their host be hiding? Maybe it's the last manuscript Augusta Black ever wrote, unpublished and rumored to be stashed inside the mansion. Or maybe it's a ghost because this place is definitely haunted. Her cousins were hoping for a relaxing summer vacation, maybe a few beach days and time in the sun. But the more time Maya spends at Black House, the more she begins to wonder. . . what is the secret their host is hiding in the locked room? And is it something more sinister than a missing manuscript?

Told over the course of a few thrilling days, THE THIRTEEN DOORS OF BLACK HOUSE is a fast-paced mystery that is sure to hook young readers. A little bit spooky, and a little bit funny, it perfectly pairs the magic of vacationing with your family with the magic of an old, storied house.

POPULAR TROPES: Horror fiction is on the rise in the middle grade category, and this one is perfectly timed for summer vacation reading. It's a beach read for spooky kids!

DEBUT AUTHOR: This is Laura Lavoie's first middle grade novel, and she's someone we can grow here at UNSQ Kids.

COMMERCIAL APPEAL: THE THIRTEEN DOORS OF BLACK HOUSE has everything young readers of horror love: ghosts, magical doors, black cats, ominous woods, and a big spooky house. The plot utilizes gothic fiction tropes in a fun way for kids.

Author Bio:

Laura Lavoie has written Vampire Vacation (Viking, 2022), Monster Baker (Roaring Brook Press, 2023) and the forthcoming picture books Duck, Duck, Taco Truck (Doubleday, 2024) and COUSINS! (Roaring Brook, 2025). She holds dual master's degrees in education and mental health counseling and began her career working as a counselor for young kids. She is a mom of two daughters, ages 8 and 6 and lives in New York. You can learn more about her at lauralavoieauthor.com.

The Black Market

Jed Alexander

ON SALE:	November 2025
Specs:	HC-PLC with Jacket and PB-Trade
Extent:	224 pages, all in 2 colour
Dimensions:	5 ½ x 8 ¼
Age range:	8-12
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	Final sketches and MS
US price:	$17.99/ $10.99

Here is a highly illustrated middle-grade novel about the allure of a good prank and the weight of responsibility.

When Martin’s great-aunt brings him an unusual pair of shoes, Martin is determined to find the strange marketplace where she bought them—the Black Market, a constantly relocating swap meet where the world’s strangest items are exchanged. Though his aunt has sworn him to secrecy, he enlists the help of his best friend Jess to find the Black Market on Halloween. Soon, Martin trades his shoes for the Bag of Tricks and discovers that not all fun is good and harmless.

IMPORTANT EMOTIONAL THEMES: THE BLACK MARKET explores themes of responsibility, guilt, and revenge, teaching readers a lesson through an extravagant and suspenseful lens.

IMAGINATIVE SETTING: Alexander crafts an exciting, imaginative, and weird mise en scene—a setting reminiscent of Roald Dahl and a journey that immerses readers in the story and keeps them hooked until the very end.

TALENTED DEBUT CREATOR: This story will be Jed Alexander’s middle grade debut, providing us with an opportunity to foster new talent and expand our list.

ILLUSTRATIONS THROUGHOUT THE TEXT: Jed Alexander puts his illustration skills to incredible use here, peppering THE BLACK MARKET with black-and-white illustrations to perfectly accompany the text.

Follow him or die...

Influencer, by Bram Stoker Award–winning author Adam Cesare, is a tense and timely psychological thriller told from alternating points of view about a teenage girl who begins to suspect the charismatic new kid may in fact be a murderous psychopath. As more and more of her friends fall under his influence, her suspicions begin to come across like jealousy. But is she right? And if so, how much more dangerous would he be toward someone who has discovered his secret?

A new and expanded paperback adaptation of the Audible Original, Influencer explores the dark side of social media and the cult of personalities that flourish there as the teens navigate their own fears about friendship and popularity, culminating in an epic battle of wills that will leave readers breathless.

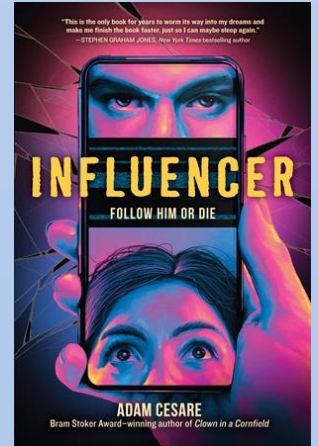

Rights sold: English (UK and Commonwealth).

RISING STAR: Adam Cesare has won a Bram Stoker award for his YA horror novel, Clown In a Cornfield, which is being adapted into a movie. He also writes comics for Dark Horse, film scripts, and nonfiction. He’s a multi-talented author on the verge of breaking out.

AUDIBLE ORIGINAL: The story was as an audio drama created exclusively for Audible on November 2, 2023. Cast includes Isabela Merced as Crystal and Christopher Briney as Aaron.

TIMELY SUBJECT: Teens are always online, and we’re in an era when anyone can become an influencer. This novel explores the sinister side of life on the internet and serves as a warning to teens about who to follow and how much to put of themselves online.

YOUNG ADULT FICTION

Author Bio:

Adam Cesare is a New Yorker who lives in Philadelphia. He studied English and film at Boston University. His work has been featured in numerous publications, including Shroud Magazine. Losting Fountain

Lora Senf

ON SALE:	December 2024
Specs:	HC-Trade Cloth with Jacket/PB-Trade Paperback
Extent:	352 pages
Rights:	WORLD
Age Range	12 and up
Material available	Final PDF
US price:	$19.99 / $12.99

Bram Stoker Award finalist Lora Senf's The Losting Fountain is a luscious and creepy dark fantasy about three teens looking for home that's perfect for fans of The Hazel Wood and Daughter of Smoke and Bone.

The borders between our world and the world of the Fountain are already porous. If the balance between them is upset and control of the Fountain is lost, the consequences will be rapid, merciless, and world-ending. In every timeline that has been or will be, everywhere that water stands in our world will become a passageway for the violent damned to enter ours from the Fountain.

For Ember, Miles, and Sam, all from different times, what starts as a journey to take control of their lives quickly becomes a quest to save—or destroy—both worlds, depending on whom you ask.

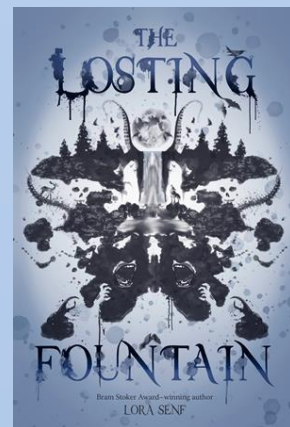

Rising star and author of multiple-award-nominee The Clackity, Lora Senf has created a gorgeously written, pitch-black fantasy that will transport readers to a world that is as beautiful as it is horrifying and will keep readers on their toes as they devour it page by page.

AUTHOR IS A RISING TALENT: Lora Senf has already received numerous accolades and high praise for her MG debut, The Clackity. The Losting Fountain is her debut YA and a great opportunity to get in early with a stunningly talented writer.

AWARD POTENTIAL: Lora has already been nominated for a number of awards for her middle grade debut, and her talent positions her well for YA genre awards as well. Her awards and nominations include Junior Library Guild, Cybils Award finalist, Imadjinn Award finalist, Norton Nebula suggested reading list, NYPL's Best Books for Kids in 2022, Esquire's 22 Best Horror Books of 2022, and Bram Stoker Award finalist.

GENRE APPEAL: Dark fantasy and horror are always popular with teen readers, and fans will delight in Lora's beautiful yet horrific prose that is reminiscent of The Hazel Wood and Daughter of Smoke and Bone will appeal to fans of both genre and lyrical literary writing.

YOUNG ADULT FICTION

Author Bio:

Lora Senf is the author of The Clackity, the first book in the Blight Harbor Novels (Atheneum Books for Young Readers, 2022) with The Nighthouse Keeper and The Loneliest Place to follow in 2023 and 2024. The Clackity is a Junior Library Guild selection, a Cybils Award finalist in the Elementary/Middle Grade Speculative Fiction category, is on the New York Public Library's Best Books for Kids 2022 list, was the only middle grade title on Esquire's list of the 22 Best Horror Books of 2022, and is a nominee for the inaugural Bram Stoker Award for Superior Achievement in a Middle Grade Novel. She lives in Spokane, Washington.

Bingsu for Two

Sujin Witherspoon

ON SALE:	January 2025
Specs:	HC- Trade Cloth with Jacket and PB
Extent:	360 pages
Age Range	14 and up
Rights:	WORLD
Material available	Final PDF
US price:	$19.99/ $14.99

This outrageously charming enemies-to-lovers debut YA romance about two teens who unite to save a failing Korean cafe is a ray of sweet sunshine, perfect for fans of Jenny Han and Jenna Evans Welch.

After dumping his girlfriend, walking out of the SATs, and quitting his job at his parents' coffee shop all in one day, half-Korean, full-disaster River Langston-Lee is desperate to salvage his senior year of high school. Too bad all he has going for him is a mega popular, mega lame fandom blog. Landing a job at a failing Korean cafe, Bingsu for Two, seems like his lucky break. Until he realizes his new coworker is the snarky goth girl he got into a fight with at his old job: Sarang Cho, who's as determined to save her family's business as she is to make River's life hell.

After River accidentally uploads a video of his chaotic coworkers to his fandom blog, they go viral. Their newfound fame is the key to saving the cafe, but in order to keep the internet's attention, River and Sarang must pretend to be a couple for their adoring subscribers. Between acting lovey-dovey for the camera and brewing coffee together, River realizes Sarang isn't the heartless girl he originally took her for, and that the cafe feels more like home than anywhere else.

Rights sold in English (UK and Commonwealth) and French.

DELIGHTFULLY TROPEY: This enemies-to-lover, fake-dating story puts a fresh spin on favorite tropes in a way that feels genuinely hilarious, believable, and sweepingly romantic.

CHEMISTRY TO BURN: River and Sarang's mutual enmity obscures a simmering attraction that grows into a heart-warming love story.

CAPTURES ONLINE CULTURE: The characters' use of social media to capture the imagination of their followers after going viral is both hysterical and believable in a time when anyone's five minutes of fame is around the corner.

ENSEMBLE CAST AND FOUND FAMILY VIBES: The oddball community at Bingsu for Two is heartwarming, with each character well-developed and lovable.

YOUNG ADULT FICTION

Author Bio:

Sujin Witherspoon is a Korean American writer and former barista (the milk-frothing incident is, unfortunately, based on a true story) who loves writing about things that go bump in the night or make her stomach hurt from laughing—or both!

Having earned her degree in English Language & Literature from the University of Washington, she spends her days writing (or thinking about writing), exploring Seattle, and searching unsuccessfully for Bigfoot in the surrounding forests.

Bingsu for Two is her debut novel.

Seyoon Shin Needs a Reality Check

Sujin Witherspoon

ON SALE:	January 2026
Specs:	HC- Trade Cloth with Jacket and PB
Extent:	320 pages
Age Range	14 and up
Rights:	WORLD
Material available	Unedited MS
US price:	$19.99/ $14.99

Seyoon Shin has every right to be petty, if you ask her. Her parents just split, she's not speaking with her best friend after a vicious argument, and her mom may lose custody if she can't make ends meet. But the sole target of Seyoon's angst is Garrett Moxley, winner of the canceled reality show, Evergreen Expedition. He and her mom competed on the final season 30 years ago when Garrett secretly cheated her mom out of first place and its life-changing cash prize. When Garrett launches Forest Feud, a nostalgia reboot for teens, Seyoon realizes the $1 million prize is her and her mom's ticket to a better life and an opportunity to finally get what they're owed.

To her horror, another co-contestant is Dean Paik: the physical manifestation of sunshine—and her ex-best friend. When Dean proclaims to national TV that he's here to win her back, Seyoon publicly and brutally shuts him down. When her outburst almost gets her booted from the show, she realizes that if she wants to avoid elimination, she needs to swallow her pride and apologize to Dean. Surprise number two: discarding the love-sick act, Dean reveals he's not actually here for reconciliation, but to beat her to the prize as revenge. The only thing they still have in common? A competitive streak.

As the lines between reality and reality show blur, the fire of Seyoon's anger—toward Dean, Garrett, the world—begins to cool, and she begins to wonder if the one standing in the way of her own happiness all along has been . . . herself?

TROPEY ROMANCE: Ex-best friends turned fake couple turned real couple, Seyoon and Dean's complicated history fans the flames of their smoldering tension as they compete to take each other down, spotlighting popular trends within the romance genre.

STRONG COMEDY: Sujin Witherspoon's superpower is writing the most hilarious situations, characters, and interactions, complete with snort-inducing chapter titles and dialogue.

RISING AUTHOR: The author of Bingsu for Two, whose stardom is only beginning, delivers laughs and swoons in this standalone contemporary romance, perfect for fans of Never Ever Getting Back Together.

Extent:	256
Age range:	12-17
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	Final PDF
US price:	$18.99/ $10.99

Adventure, queer history, plus a hint of magic await in this thrilling sequel to L.C. Rosen's Lion's Legacy, a queer take on Indiana Jones about reclaiming LGBTQIA+ history.

It's summer break, college applications are in, and it's time for Tennessee Russo's next adventure! Tennessee and Gabe, his best friend (and occasionally more), are heading to Ireland where they'll explore the tomb of Oscar Wilde. But before they can make any real plans, Tennessee gets a call from his dad, Henry. The archaeology world is buzzing about a newly discovered ivory found in Israel. The ivory depicts King David receiving a lyre from Jonathan (his lover). David. As in David and Goliath, king of Israel, and a historical figure who scholars have long argued was queer. His relationship with Jonathan is one that even the Bible describes as deep and special. A lyre given to King David by his lover would be a piece of queer history that Tennessee would love to discover. Forget Wilde, they must find this lyre. Soon Tennessee, Gabe, and Henry are tracking clues and solving puzzles all over Europe. They're not alone—other archaeologists, a secret, questionable organization sworn to protect artifacts, and even the Vatican are desperate to claim the king's lyre before Tennessee can.

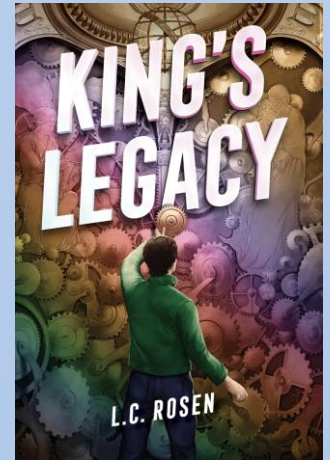

It's a race against time and across centuries as Tennessee Russo once again works to reclaim and shed light on a long-buried piece of queer history.

WILDLY FUN ADVENTURE: The twists and turns are evocative of those found in the Indiana Jones and National Treasure film franchises.

LGBTQ+ HISTORY: The Tennessee Russo duology brings attention to fascinating parts of queer history, highlighting historically marginalized communities and reclaiming their stories.

BUZZWORTHY SEQUEL: In a starred review, Booklist praised Rosen's first Tennessee Russo novel for emphasizing “the importance between connecting the historical existence and contributions of queer people to the queer community in the present.” Fans will be eager to follow along on this next adventure.

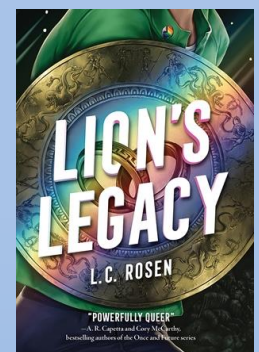

ESSENTIAL, CONTEMPORARY VOICE: L. C. Rosen writes for all ages and is a rising star in the YA community.

Author Bio:

L. C. Rosen writes books for people of all ages, most recently Lavender House, which the New York Times says “movingly explores the strain of trying to pass as straight at a time when living an authentic life could be deadly” and was a best book of the year from BuzzFeed, Library Journal, Amazon, and Bookpage, among others. His prior novel, Camp, was also a best book of the year from places such as Forbes, Elle, and the Today show. He lives in New York City with his husband and a very small cat. Gorgeous in its sincerity and its precision—in its raw, honest depiction of what it feels like to be a gay teen in a world that says that you don't deserve a home.

Gloria Forman and Xia Harper go to the same high school, but they couldn't be more different. While Gloria is part of the popular, Christian crowd, Xia sleeps through class, antagonizes anyone who talks to her, and buries herself in books that help her pretend she's somewhere else—anywhere that being lesbian wouldn't be a waking nightmare.

When the two form an accidental friendship, they begin noticing each other in ways they promised themselves they'd avoid. After all, Xia's isolation is self-imposed for a reason, and the last thing Gloria needs is more upheaval, especially after her parents kicked her out of the house for being gay. But as their feelings for each other intensify and the truths they've hidden work their way to the surface, what they truly want will change forever.

SUPREMELY TALENTED YA AUTHOR: Riley Redgate is a seasoned, versatile, highly respected YA author. She is poised to break out with this brilliantly crafted novel with a strong, timely, issue-driven hook.

HEARTBREAKING LOOK AT YOUTH HOMELESSNESS: Gloria's struggle with the realities of homelessness after being kicked out by her parents is gut-wrenching and a critical examination of an overlooked issue, particularly among LGBTQ+ teens

BEAUTIFULLY CRAFTED QUEER ROMANCE: Gloria and Xia's romance is perfectly paced and feels authentically adolescent, with each isolated, lonely girl seeking a friend and discovering that they can become something more.

AWARDS POTENTIAL: This stunningly written novel by an acclaimed author could easily get on awards committees' radar and is positioned to become a hit like award-winning queer romances including Dante & Aristotle Discover the Secrets of the Universe, Last Night at the Telegraph Club, and We Are Okay.

YOUNG ADULT FICTION

Author Bio:

Riley Redgate is the author of four YA novels including SEVEN WAYS WE LIE and ALONE OUT HERE. Her fifth YA novel, LOOK NO FURTHER, was published under her real name, Rioghnach Robinson, and was co-written with her sister, Siofra Robinson. Thirsty Ground

Kimber St. Lawrence

ON SALE:	May 2025
Specs:	Trade Paperback
Extent:	368 pages
Age range:	14 and up
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	PDF
US price:	$13.99

A young astronaut must learn to survive on post-apocalyptic Earth after he's paralyzed during an exploration for water. Thirsty Ground is an action-packed science fiction novel with shades of Dune that deals with modern issues like colonialism, survival, climate change, and the idea of duty versus honor.

Conway 12-21 is just weeks from Hydroseeker initiation when he'll join the elite squadron that scours the universe for viable water to sustain the spacenation Tsimmaon. At 17, Conway is already the strongest motorover rider among them, making him certain this is his calling. Then one failed mission changes everything.

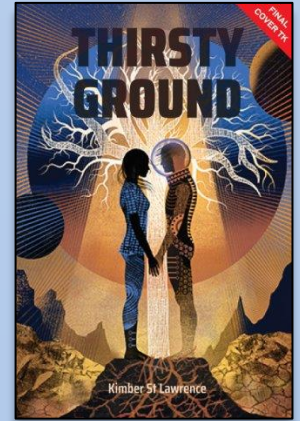

Left for dead on the fabled Arid Planet with a life-altering injury, Conway is taken in by the citizens of Adamah, a community no one knew had survived the Dry Death. But these people have a secret: their water is deadly if you don't follow its rules, mutating the drinker into one of the gruesome creatures that prowl their woods.

As a purifying Conduit, Adamah's young sovereign Selah is key to the water's safety and, Conway realizes, the key to the survival of his spacenation. He just needs to convince himself that betraying Selah is worth it, which gets harder the more he learns about her... and the more he discovers about his own people.

POPULAR TROPES: Perfect for fans of character-driven science fiction with high action, enemies-to-lovers, brothers-in-arms, and found family.

TIMELY SUBJECT: Water scarcity, climate change, and other environmental issues have been in the news, and it's something young people continue to care about.

DISABILITY REPRESENTATION: The author's husband is a para-athlete, and together they are advocates for spinal cord injury awareness.

Author Bio:

Kimber St. Lawrence is a writer of young adult books and a reader of everything from Emily Brontë to Pierce Brown. A former television producer and host, she won a New England Emmy Award with the magazine-style television series Styleboston and explored New England ski resorts with The Mountain Report on NBC Sports Boston. She is now the chief marketing officer for a business training company, where she executes omnichannel promotional campaigns for industry publications and workshops. She is also a member of SCBWI and the creator of the viral digital short on social distancing called "Time to Come In, Bear." Thirsty Ground is her first novel.

Kimber lives in New Hampshire with her border collie, eleven chickens, and husband Ryan, who is a para-athlete and advocate for spinal cord injury awareness.

In the fall of 1996, 17-year-old Rue Holloway is sent away to Sacred Heart Academy, a New England all-girls Catholic boarding school. It might have something to do with the fact that she was caught kissing Amy Brewer behind the Sunday School classrooms—something she and her mom have yet to discuss. Or it might simply be the result of what Rue’s heard her entire life: that she’s just too much.

At Sacred Heart, she’s not surprised by the strict rules, modest dress code, or stern headmistress. Sacred Heart just seems to be a more extreme version of the expectations that Rue’s experienced all her life. But what she doesn’t anticipate is the steely-eyed blonde staring at her from three pews over, her sharp nails painted dark green, her unflinching stare both a challenge and an invitation.

The blonde is Charlotte Savage - a loner, a weirdo, and total trouble. Plus, there’s gossip: she’s always sneaking off to the woods to do something strange—maybe moon goddess worship, maybe witchcraft, maybe blood sacrifices, maybe the other girls don’t even want to know. But it only intrigues Rue further, and she wants the truth.

Besides, Rue has her own secrets. She keeps having strange dreams of running wild in the forest and bathing naked in the moonlight . . . and then awakening with dirt under her fingernails and the taste of river water on her tongue. And when rumors surface that there’s some kind of wild creature loose in the woods—people have heard howls—Rue has a sneaking suspicion that she is the wild creature. But she’s only half right. Rue is transforming . . . but she’s not the only one.

FRESH TAKE ON WEREWOLVES: Capitalizing on the perennial popularity of werewolves, DeRose breathes new life into the fantasy staple by equating a woman’s wolf to her truest, purest self, with nods to When Women Were Dragons and the iconic Wolves of Mercy Falls series.

ELECTRIC QUEER ROMANCE: As Charlotte encourages Rue to unapologetically shirk the patriarchal yoke, their tentative friendship shifts into a ferocious love that empowers Rue to stand up to her mother, embrace her sexuality, and help other girls find their wild.

Author Bio:

Kim DeRose grew up in Santa Barbara, California and now lives in New York City, where she still holes up in her bedroom reading, and writing stories. DeRose earned her MFA in film directing from UCLA, and she currently works in digital media. When she isn’t reading or writing, she can be found geeking out over her favorite obsessions (Twin Peaks, Harry Potter, and anything Halloween-related, to name a few), drinking way too much coffee, listening to way too many podcasts, and spending time with her family. For Girls Who Walk through Fire, her debut novel, received an SLJ starred review and was hailed by Kirkus as “A searing examination of sexual assault centering teen witches who fight back.”

HOW RUDE!

Chana Stiefel, illustrated by Anna Louise Oliver

ON SALE:	August 2025
Specs:	HC-PLC and Trade PB
Extent:	96 pages all in colour
Age range:	8-12
Rights:	WORLD
Material available:	WIP PDF
US price:	$17.99/ $11.99

Author Bio:

Chana Stiefel is the award-winning author of more than 30 books for children, including Animal Zombies & Other Real-Life Monsters and Bravo, Avocado. She grew up in South Florida, where she loved going on “swamp tromps” in the Everglades to search for snakes, lizards, frogs, gators, and gulping pelicans. Now she lives a spitting distance from New York City, where she enjoys sharing her passion for reading and writing with children. Learn more at chanastiefel.com.

Anna Louise Oliver is an artist who loves observing and drawing animals. She studied illustration at the University of Plymouth. How Rude! is the first book she has illustrated. She is based in South West of England.

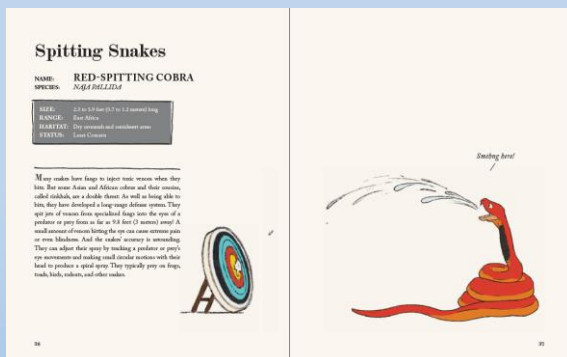

Grown-ups expect kids to avoid all sorts of “rude” behaviors. But in nature, spits, burps, and toots can happen for surprisingly strategic reasons. When animals exhibit every gross habit—from toxic sneezes to deadly farts—they’re not aiming to act rude. They do what they can to survive.

This book features the most dazzlingly disgusting creatures on planet Earth—indecent insects, repulsive reptiles, cute-yet-crude mammals, and more. You’ll also hear from scientists who are investigating what humans can learn from these bold behaviors. Prepare to be gobsmacked by good reasons for rudeness.

A PERENNIALY POPULAR TOPIC: Kids can’t get enough of gross stuff—the more “real life” it is, the better! Among the many gross nonfiction titles that already exist in the market, HOW RUDE! will stand out from the crowd by digging into the “why” and celebrating the gross things that keep animals alive.

HIGH-INTEREST NONFICTION: With the commercial hook of gross animals paired with educational STEM content, this book has something for every child, librarian, and retailer.

EYE-CATCHING DESIGN: A full-color interior with a mix of photographs and spot illustrations will allow readers to visualize the animals in real life, while keeping the more gross images easier to stomach.

Art for Kids: Comic Books!

Ari Yarwood, Sara Goetter, and Natalie Riess

ON SALE:	November 2025
Specs:	HC-PLC with Jacket and Trade PB

A reference guide that teaches the basics of writing and illustrating comic books and graphic novels inspired by the seminal work, Making Comics, by Scott McCloud.

Art for Kids: Comic Books, the latest in the Art for Kids series, reveals the steps to make a graphic novel with tips and tricks from professional comic writers and artists. Readers write and illustrate their own comic book throughout the course of the book, building the foundation needed to start exploring the wide world of comic book and graphic novel creation

Renowned editor Ari Yarwood and New York Times bestselling illustrators Natalie Riess and Sara Goetter bring their combined experience and incredible skills to let kids in on the professional vocabulary of comics, how to create interesting characters, the importance of color in storytelling, and much more. Art for Kids: Comic Books is the only guide kids need to make their very own first comic book.

EDUCATIONAL YET FUN: With the growing popularity of graphic novels for young readers and the plethora of blank comic books on the market, this book will teach middle schoolers how to take those blank comic books and create their very own graphic novels.

FULLY ILLUSTRATED: Inspired by Scott McCloud's Understanding Comics and Making Comics, the information is presented as a graphic novel or graphic novel hybrid to show the lessons in a visual context.

ALL AGES APPEAL: While this is aimed at middle schoolers, the information is helpful for beginner creators of any age, with accessible art and text.

WELL-CONNECTED AUTHORS: Ari Yarwood, Natalie Riess, and Sara Goetter are well connected in the comics and graphic novel world and are eager to promote. Additionally, Ari, formerly an editor at Oni Press, teaches this subject at Portland State University and hopes to use this book for future course adoption. Natalie and Sara are the New York Times bestselling illustrators of the Warriors graphic novels.
