Inked

author Karen Wasson • illustrator Jake A Minton

DRAFT COVER

An uproarious enemies-to-besties MG graphic novel from two brilliant new creators!

Sid is an introverted 12-year-old who wants to blend in. Otto is an opera-singing octopus who wants to stand out! So when Otto mistakenly ends up in Sid's struggling family fish shop in the small town of Rone (instead of Rome), Sid's already complicated life is turned completely upside down.

But when a TV talent show comes to town – where first prize is enough money to get Otto to Rome and Sid enrolled in the art school of his dreams – this unlikely duo decide that teaming up will give them the best chance of winning.

Can a shy, small-town kid and a pompous, attention-seeking octopus put aside their differences long enough? Or will it all end in a full-blown televised disaster?

Karen Wasson's manuscript, Inked, was the first ever graphic novel shortlisted for the Ampersand Prize. Her non-fiction picture book Drop into the Ocean published in 2024. Karen lives in Melbourne with her family of humans and one dog who thinks he's a human.

Jake A Minton is an illustrator who lives near Byron Bay, Australia. His work has been shortlisted for the Children's Book Council of Australia awards and the Little Hare Illustration Prize.

Big Trouble (series)

author Lachlann Carter • illustrator Douglas Holgate

A riotously funny, spooky series about two kids whose surroundings keep trying to eat them. From the illustrator of The Last Kids on Earth, the ten-million-copy bestselling series!

NEW SERIES!

Goosebumps meets The Twilight Zone in this ridiculously funny new series from storytelling mastermind Lachlann Carter and The Last Kids on Earth illustrator Douglas Holgate. With three madcap adventures in each book and every spread packed with comic-style illustrations, this silly-spooky series has enough trouble to keep the whole family on the edge of their seat!

Big Trouble with Angry Chairs

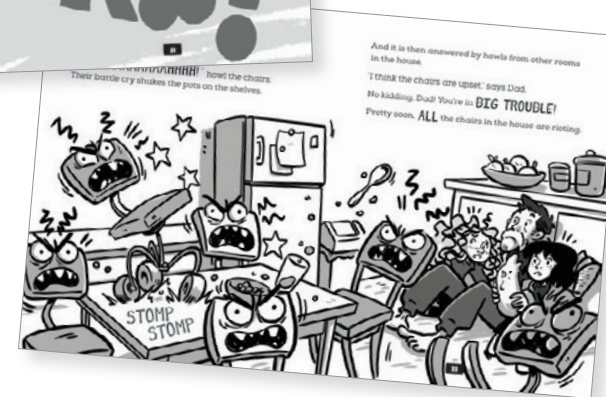

Maddie and Clare live in a quiet, palm tree-lined dead end, which they call Dead End, with their dad and pet chicken. It's a place where not much happens, except for the odd small incident. Like a mass uprising of angry chairs. And the appearance of a prehistoric mutant fart gas. And an invasion of killer pineapples. But other than that, things are pretty boring in Dead End.

You can see why Maddie and Clare have to make their own fun ...

Big Trouble with an Old Fart

The hilariously spooky series is back with Maddie and Clare's second adventure in Dead End! Can they beat a prehistoric mutant fart gas from zombieing everything, including their own dad? Will Terrible Chicken finally rule the world? And how do you defeat killer pineapples?!

'Absurd, thrilling, hilarious! Kids will love getting into Big Trouble, with its crazy storylines and loveable characters. Big Trouble is BIG FUN!'
— Andrew McDonald & Ben Wood, author and illustrator of the bestselling Real Pigeons series.

From the ten-million-copy bestselling illustrator of The Last Kids on Earth!

Life On Us

authors Tim Flannery & Emma Flannery • illustrator Xavi Ramiro

NON-FICTION

A first-of-its-kind exploration of everything that lives ON and IN us, but is NOT us!

Our bodies are home to tens of thousands of species that aren't at all human – on our skin, inside our gut and even in our brain, and they can have an extraordinary impact on how we feel, act and live!

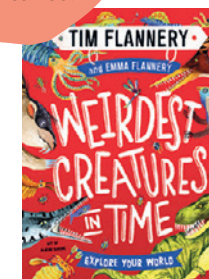

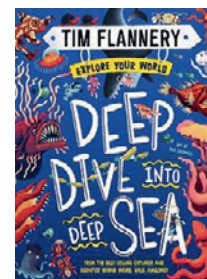

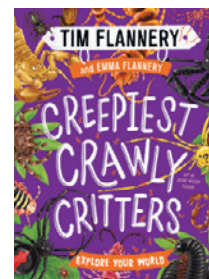

Many organisms are microscopic, but some are far longer than we are. Some make frequent but temporary visits, while others stay for a very long time! Scientist-extraordinaire Tim Flannery and his daughter Emma Flannery have assembled the weirdest collection of knowledge around this rapidly growing and exciting area of science, from poo transfusions to helpful parasites. Get ready to learn all about our amazing microbiome!

Professor Tim Flannery is one of the world's leading scientists, explorers and conservationists. He's discovered 75 new species of animals – some that are still living, and others that have been preserved as fossils. He's worked at museums and universities around the world, and he established and co-chaired the Copenhagen Climate Council. He has published over 140 peer-reviewed scientific papers and more than thirty books.

His daughter Emma Flannery is a science communicator who writes with an infectious enthusiasm that inspires curiosity in children and adults alike. Her research and writing has been published in scientific journals, children's books and a number of museum-based adult education tours.

Spectacular Snakes, Jiggliest Jellyfish (series)

authors Tim Flannery & Emma Flannery • illustrator Katie Melrose

Slither into the world of Spectacular Snakes with explorer and scientist Tim Flannery and his daughter Emma.

There's more to snakes than them being venomous and cold-blooded. Did you know a snake can still grow even when it hasn't eaten for months? Or that they have flexible jaws that allow them to eat prey that's much larger than them? Or that snakes are masters of disguise?

With more than 3700 subspecies around the world, there's a snake to delight and frighten every kind of reader, from Australia's deadly Eastern brown snake to the green anaconda, the heaviest snake in the world. Not to mention the teeny-tiny Barbados threadsnake, which is half as long as a pencil! Explore the world's weirdest reptile family in this gorgeous large-format picture book filled with lush, full-colour illustrations by Katie Melrose.

Discover the mesmerising world of jellyfish!

You might think that there's not much to jellyfish, but this book will make you think again. Did you know that jellyfish can thrive in waters that would suffocate other sea creatures? Or that some jellyfish can flash different colours from purple to green? Or that they have world's most powerful venom? There is even a jellyfish that is immortal!

Come along on an exciting expedition with Tim Flannery and Emma Flannery as they spotlight some of the world's weirdest and most fascinating creatures that children obsess over.

Come Together Again

author Isaiah Firebrace • illustrator Jaelyn Biumaiwai

The follow-up to Isaiah Firebrace's hugely successful picture book, Come Together, that explores First Nations music song and dance.

Come Together Again is the second delightful picture book from Yorta Yorta and Gunditjmara man and musician Isaiah Firebrace, for children aged 5 and up. It explores First Nations culture through a celebration of music, song and dance.

From the bestselling author of Come Together.

Music, song and dance brings people together, creating connections. For First Nations People, they are at the heart of culture and community, holding knowledge, stories and tradition. For Isaiah, music is a huge part of who he is and in this book he shares his passion.

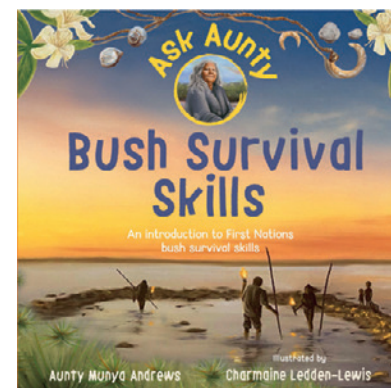

Come Together Again teaches young readers about the integral role music and performance have played in 60,000 years of First Nations history and culture. Learn about the yidaki (didgeridoo) and how it makes its sounds or how gum leaves can whistle. Be introduced to First Nations singers across pop, country and opera music. Discover dancers in the styles of contemporary, ballet and hip-hop.

Collaborating once again with Mununjali and Fijian artist Jaelyn Biumaiwai, Isaiah takes us on a musical learning journey through ceremonial history, instrument creation, and cultural beliefs and practices.

Ask Aunty: Bush Survival Skills

author Aunty Munya Andrews • illustrator Charmaine Ledden-Lewis

Young readers can learn essential bush survival skills with Aunty Munya's charming and educational picture book.

Ask Aunty: Bush Survival Skills is a delightful and educational picture book that introduces bush survival knowledge passed down by Bardi Elders through generations.

Do you know how to survive in the bush? Aboriginal People have lived in the bush for a long, long time. They love and look after Country like it's family, and in return, Country looks after the people.

In this book, Aunty Munya explains the three things you need to survive in the bush: water, food and shelter. Learn how to find water from waterholes or native wells, and protect them from contamination. Discover which plants are safe to eat and which are not, and which can be used as medicine or glue! Find out how to build a shelter that protects you from the sun, rain and wind. Aunty Munya also tells you how you can find your way without a map and teaches the many uses of fire.

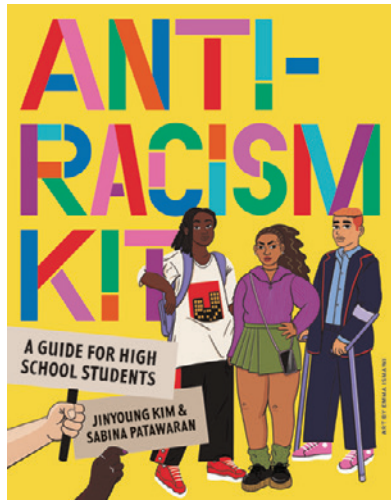

With stunning illustrations by Charmaine Ledden-Lewis, Ask Aunty: Bush Survival Skills encourages all readers to develop a deeper connection with the land, waters and sky.

The second book from Aunty Munya and Charmaine Ledden-Lewis, following Ask Aunty: Seasons.

Scotty and the Scotties

author & illustrator Gabriel Evans

This mischievous picture book doubles as a search-and-find with a twist!

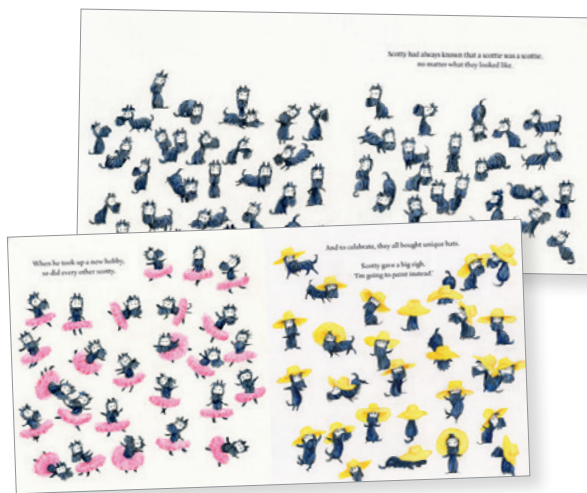

By the same creator!

A sneakily funny picture book about togetherness, independence and unconditional love, from beloved Australian author-illustrator Gabriel Evans.

In Scotty's family, a scottie is a scottie, no matter what you look like. But when everyone looks the same, acts the same, and does all the same things, can you ever truly be your own scottie, too?

It's only when a stranger comes slinking into the scene that Scotty feels completely singled out and on his own – and this is when the reader discovers that he's actually not a scottie dog. He's a mouse! Thankfully, his family are quick to back him up, reminding him that no matter what he looks like, he's still a scottie to them.

Waiters in Elevators

author Dylan Shearsby • illustrators Dylan & Amanda Shearsby

DRAFT COVER

Co-written by Australian
Children's Laureate Sally Rippin and disability advocate
Eliza Hull.

DRAFT INTERNALS

From the award-winning creators of Come Over to My House comes this light-hearted story about the social model of disability.

Carla and Sam want to play together, but there's nowhere in their neighbourhood that's accessible to them both! So Carla and Sam dream up a place where all kids can play together – and a wonderful new space is born.

This fun, child-centred romp through a local neighbourhood belies a powerful message about accessibility, and what it truly means to be disabled. With Sally Rippin's characteristic lightness of touch and disability advocate Eliza Hull's depth of knowledge, this appealing story explores the social model of disability; namely, that people are disabled not by their own bodies, but by their environments. It's a powerful lens through which to understand why accessibility is an issue for everyone.

Young Queens: The Curious Crown

author & illustrator Megan Hess

Bestselling author Megan Hess shines in this sparkling original fairy tale about a legendary crown, and the girl who needs to borrow it for a festive miracle ...

As the snow swirls on Christmas Eve, young Ella Rose gazes out the palace window and sees a boy whose own tree is bare. Her family's Christmas tree is laden with baubles, and she wants to share some with him – but when she goes to leave, it's freezing outside, and the weather is fierce.

However, Ella Rose dreams of being fierce, too. In her palace, under lock and key, is a magical crown that once belonged to her mother. If she borrows it – just for one night – will it give her the courage, strength and creativity she needs to help this boy?

The third wondrous picture book in Megan Hess's Young Queens Collection, a series of original fairytales about young girls coming into their own power. Every girl has a queen inside!

Wildling Books inspire, delight and empower children.

Every storybook and resource can be used as a conversation-starter to explore emotional literacy, promote well-being, and help navigate every young wildling's unique inner world.

Rebekah Lipp is an author, mother to three amazing sons, and mental health advocate residing in New Zealand. She co-wrote Finding Gratitude (Quarto, 2019). Her personal journey with anxiety and depression and knowledge of cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) inspired Wildling Books, alongside her passion to bring awareness to children's mental health, emotional well-being and anxiety. With a gentle parenting approach, Rebekah feels that all children have genius within them and if we act out of a place of compassion, kindness and love, we will see our children thrive.

Craig Phillips is an award-winning illustrator whose art has appeared in published works, anthologies and exhibitions across the world. He worked on Neil Gaiman's American Gods and his first solo work, Giants, Trolls, Witches, Beasts won the New Zealand Book Award's Russell Clark Award for Illustration, an Australian Gold Ledger, was a Children's Book Council of Australia Notable book and was a finalist in the Aurealis Awards. Craig lives and works in New Zealand.

How Do I Feel?

author Rebekah Lipp • illustrator Craig Phillips

Finalist in the
New Zealand
Storylines Book
Awards 2022!

An essential emotional literacy tool for children with 60+ definitions inside!

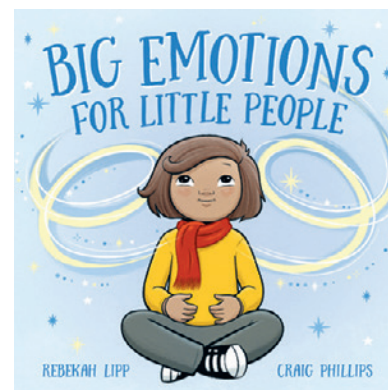

Join Aroha and her friends as they share how different emotions feel in the body and find the words for how they truly feel! A useful resource for parents, carers and educators to help children recognise, label and understand their many emotions.

'This book is a much-needed tool for children and those caring for them. By showing that a wide range of emotions each have their own unique value and purposes, this book helps to both normalise and encourage understanding towards the big emotions and feelings that, although sometimes demonised, are experienced by each and every one of us at some point in our lives.' — Danielle Whitburn, Mental Health Foundation of New Zealand

Big Emotions for Little People

author Rebekah Lipp • illustrator Craig Phillips

The perfect introduction to emotions big and small!

A simplified version of bestselling How Do I Feel?, this board book covers happiness, anger, excitement, frustration and more.

Tucked into the final spread, Big Emotions for Little People is complete with a simple belly-breathing tool.

Let It Flow

author Rebekah Lipp • illustrator Craig Phillips

An informative guide to healthy emotional expression for children.

Learn how to channel your emotional energy in healthy, safe ways in this accessible guide for children by the bestselling creators of How Do I Feel?

'As a parent educator I am always looking for tools and ideas that can help parents and kids with understanding and accepting big feelings. I absolutely adore this book and would recommend it to any parent looking to increase their child's and their own vocabulary around emotions and in turn resilience in the face of challenging times. This is one of the biggest gifts we can give to our kids, and this book is a fantastic way to give kids resources and ideas for managing their feelings. It just might even help us as adults too!'

Aroha's Choice

author Rebekah Lipp • illustrator Craig Phillips

An uplifting story about the power of positive thoughts.

Our brains help us think, learn, and do all sorts of amazing things! Thoughts are not facts, they are just words in our heads. In Aroha's Choice, Aroha learns that she can use her thoughts to influence her emotions in a positive way and help overcome negative feelings.

'Aroha's Choice supports children (and adults) to understand how our neural pathways can create automatic ways of thinking and behaving. It beautifully explains that if our thinking is holding us back, we have the power and capacity to reform it.' — Anna Mowat, Director at Real Collective

author Rebekah Lipp • illustrator Craig Phillips

A soothing story about managing big emotions.

Join Aroha and her friends as they navigate their way through four emotions (sadness, anger, shame and fear) by finding unique ways to release their feelings.

'A wonderful energised story for helping kids learn to notice and discover language for experiences of emotions. An important book for helping our tamariki, mokopuna, whanau and teachers share korero about feelings in safe ways.' — Dr Hinemoa Elder, MBChB, FRANZCP, PhD, MNZM

'This book helps children better understand how to let go of the shame and blame associated with angry actions. Absolutely magic!' — Kylie Johnston, Heart Centred Coach

Sally Rippin

Sally Rippin is Australia's highest-selling female author and has written over 100 books for children and young adults, many of them award-winning. Her widely popular books are beloved across the globe, and have sold more than 10 million copies in eighteen countries. Best known for her Billie B Brown and Hey Jack! series, Sally loves to write stories with heart, as well as characters that resonate with children, parents and teachers alike. Her Polly and Buster series is beloved by primary-school readers, while her most recent series, School of Monsters, is ideal for kids who are learning to read.

In 2024, Sally was named the eighth Australian Children's Laureate. Appointed every two years, the Children's Laureate is the national ambassador for reading and Australian children's literature. They speak on behalf of all creators and for the entire industry representing reading advocates, educators, librarians, booksellers and publishers. Every Laureate has a mission for their two-year term. For Sally, it is: 'All kids can be readers'.

Sophie Beer

Sophie Beer is an award-winning author and illustrator based in Brisbane, Australia. She works primarily in children's books, having published with Penguin Random House, Simon and Schuster, Walker, Scholastic, Hardie Grant and many more. As an illustrator, she has worked with Disney/Pixar, Google and the Sydney Opera House, and she has collaborated with Myer for her own line of children's homewares. When she's not illustrating and writing, she thinks a lot about plants, animals, music, books and social justice. There are nearly a million Sophie Beer books in print across Australia, New Zealand, and North America.

Jedda Robaard

Jedda Robaard is a children's book illustrator and author whose work is well known in Australia and internationally, having been published in many languages, including English, French, Dutch, Greek, Italian and Chinese. Book illustration is an opportunity for Jedda to create little worlds where characters can play, unhindered by society's restrictions. Jedda says, referring to the style of her art, 'The majority of my illustrations have been created simply with pencil and watercolour. They are just puddles of colour if you like. Puddles manipulated into tiny beings with feelings, obligations and agendas.'

Dr Melissa Kang and Yumi Stynes

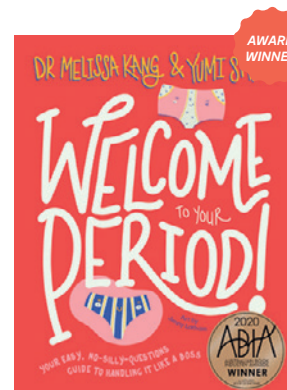

NON-FICTION

Dr Melissa Kang is a practising medical doctor for marginalised young people and has academic roles at the University of Technology Sydney and the University of Sydney. She is fifth-generation Malaysian-Chinese Anglo-Australian, which makes specialising in adolescent sexuality and sexual health all the more interesting. She continues to speak about these topics in the mainstream media.

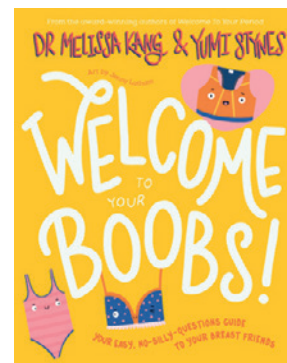

Yumi Stynes is a second-generation Japanese-Australian TV and radio presenter. She's currently the host of Ladies, We Need to Talk, an award-winning podcast that explores all the trickiest topics and taboos about women's health, including periods, discharge, difficult motherhood, and just about everything else.

Series:
Welcome To You

Welcome to Your Period is a bestseller in China.

The Welcome to You series is now published in 14 languages and has sold 75,000 copies in ANZ alone.

Tim Flannery

Professor Tim Flannery is one of the world's leading scientists, explorers and conservationists. He's spent most of his life studying the natural world – from mammalogy to palaeontology – and has had some incredible adventures along the way, including floating down crocodile-infested rivers and wrestling pythons. He's discovered 75 new species of animals – some that are still living, and others that have been preserved as fossils. He's worked at museums and universities in Australia and around the world, including as Director of the South Australian Museum, Visiting Chair in Australian Studies at Harvard University and Distinguished Visiting Fellow at the Australian Museum. He established and co-chaired the Copenhagen Climate Council, was appointed Australia's first Climate Commissioner and is the Founder and Chief Councillor of the Australian Climate Council. In 2007, he was named Australian of the Year. He has published over 140 peer-reviewed scientific papers and more than thirty books.

Emma Flannery is a scientist and writer whose curiosity for the natural world has seen her travel and work in some of its most wild and interesting places. She has explored caves, forests and oceans across most of the globe's continents in search of the elusive fossils, animals and plants that help us understand our planet and who we are in it. With postgraduate experience in geology, chemistry and palaeontology, Emma's research and writing has been published in scientific journals, children's books and a number of museum-based adult education tours. She has worked for and with universities, government agencies and museums.
