The Agency

The agency was founded by Ute Körner (1939-2008) in September 1984 after accumulating over 20 years of experience in the publishing sector. From then until now, the agency team strives to continue the legacy and spirit of its founder, offering it as a distinguishing feature of our way of working. Last year, in 2024, we celebrated our 40th Anniversary!

Our main activities are two: the exclusive representation of publishers, agencies and foreign content creators for the territories of Spain, Portugal, Latin America and Brazil; and advice, representation and licensing of national and international authors from different territories. We are the reference agency in the sale of rights to works originally published in German and Italian, although at present are also present in our catalogue other geographies and literature.

We have a long experience in different genres from literary narrative to the more commercial, through all kinds of work of non-fiction, comics and graphic novels. We are also recognized as one of the leading agencies in the market for children's books.

In January 2021, we created Art&Kö Illustration, our illustrators' agency, in which we mainly represent Km0 illustrators in all fields. We are a motivated team and passionate about our work. Above all, we like to read, and we believe strongly that our work can contribute to a society in which reading gains adherents every day.

In spring, when Hedgehog is woken from hibernation by the first rays of sun, young readers can have a good stretch and jump for joy, too, when spring arrives. Then they can sing along with the birds as they sweep away old leaves, blow the rainclouds from the sky, look for eggs and mix a delicious cake with Mouse. Just clap your hands once and it's ready! This is the way to make spring fun.

In summer, Mouse skips happily through the meadows, off for a swim. Don't forget to put on sunscreen! And to waft cool air her way or scare off those naughty fish! Then we can all put our feet up together, sing a song, scream for ice cream, and knock at Hedgehog's door when a thunderstorm catches us out. Better put your hands over your ears when it thunders! Mouse and Hedgehog then say goodbye to young readers and off they walk into the sunset. Don't forget to wave back!

Soon it will be Easter. Mister O'Lui best friend, Rupert, is planning to present Mister O'Lui with lots of brightly coloured Easter eggs. But uh oh! When he's going to the party, the eggs fall off one by one. Can you help the little boar find the eggs and bring them safely to Mister O'Lui?

A series in different formats, ideal for pre-school kids and for developing emotional learning and motor skills.

The beaver-bear Mister O'Lui is a small, unusual bear with chubby cheeks - without them, he wouldn't be a real beaver. In the Bear Forest, his unusual appearance made him feel like he never really belonged among the other bears. And so, one day, Mister O'Lui embarked on a big, exciting journey - and found what he always wanted: true friends who loved him just the way he was!

A wonderfully whimsical and witty story for those who like to think outside the box

All the spiders spin ordinary spider webs to catch flies. And then there is Selma! Selma is different. She is creative. She has a dream. And Selma pursues it, no matter how nonsensical the other spiders find her web art. Because Selma's works are meant to capture the magnificence of the universe...

Selma's webs, on the other hand, are... unusual. When other spiders look at her creations, some of them say, "Selma, you're doing it wrong. You won't catch any flies in webs like that." But Selma doesn't mind. She isn't interested in catching flies. Selma wants to spin spider webs that capture the Splendor of the Universe.

New home, new friends - Jakob and Jitters' first adventure!

Jakob and his family move to a part of town without cars, but with lots of green spaces and room to run around. There's even a secret gang for kids. That sounds pretty good to Jakob, but it also makes him a little nervous.

Good thing he's got Jitters with him, his old stuffed rabbit that goes with him through thick and thin. And that's exactly what he needs! Because to join a gang, he needs to pass the initiation test. When Jakob discovers that a couple of shady characters in the adjoining allotment garden badly mistreat their chickens, he and the gang hatch a plan to free the animals. Can he overcome his fear and save the animals and be accepted into the gang?

protestieren. Irgendetwas sagen. Etwas wie: „Hey, lass das arme Huhn los. Du bist der Tierquäler!“ Aber ich kriege meine Lippen nicht auseinander. Ich bin zu geschockt.

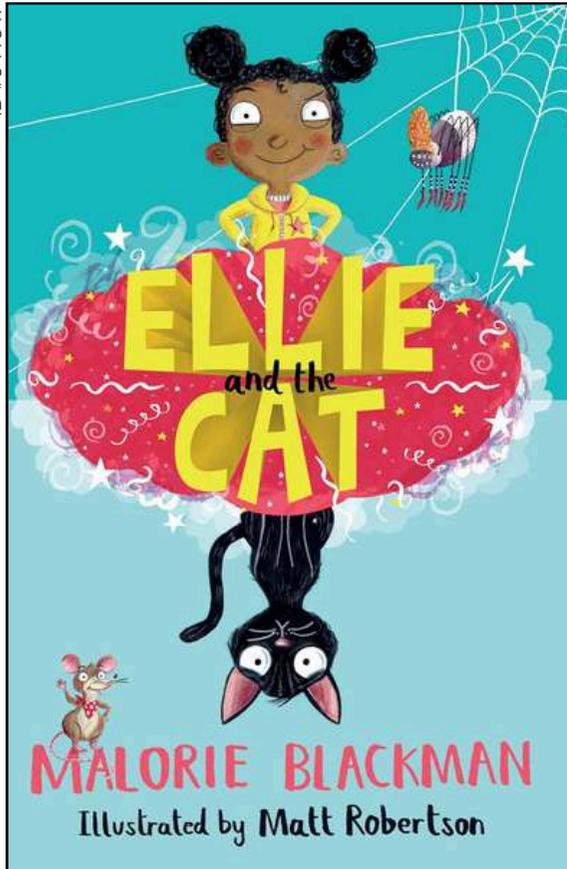

Der dicke Mann öffnet die Tür zu seinem Gartenhaus. Ich kann eine Holzbank sehen, die ums Eck geht, wie bei meiner Oma. Außerdem einen schweren Holztisch und sogar einen Herd. Und jede Menge Hühner, die in viel zu kleinen Holzkisten eingesperrt sind. Die Kisten stehen überall im Häuschen. Der Mann muss mindestens zwanzig Hühner bei sich eingesperrt haben. Und die armen Tiere können sich in den Kisten kein bisschen bewegen. Null Komma null. Wie aneinandergeklebt sitzen sie in ihren furchtbaren Gefängnis. Die Schrägel weit geöffnet, schnappen sie panisch nach Luft. Der dicke Mann öffnet eine der Kisten und quetscht das Huhn zwischen die anderen. Dann knallt er den Deckel wieder drauf. Ich spüre die Wut in mir aufsteigen, wie eine Rakete, die zum Mond fliegt. „Ekklige Viecher“, schimpft der miese Kerl und wischt sich die Hände an seinem Kittel ab.

Series: Diary of a Vampire

How can one survive as a vampire in a family of vampire hunters?

Hester's life recently ended with a bite – and that really annoys her. Because being a vampire is nowhere near as much fun as all the slushy books and films make it out to be. “Superpowers”? You must be kidding! Hester's teenage skin is even paler than it used to be: she's suddenly allergic to the sun, and if she wants to go swimming outdoors, she has to wear a diving suit! There's no way she can possibly tell her best friend Stella about it – she'd think Hester has gone crazy. And if Hester's family ever got wind of the fact that she'd suddenly become a vampire, that would be the catastrophe to end all catastrophes...because they are VAMPIRE HUNTERS! Aaaaaaargh!

A family reading, for fans of The Simpsons

Do you know the Hackebart family? Thirteen-year-old Brooklyn is super sensible, Zosch, eleven, is a passionate sportsman and gambler (Brawl Stars is his favourite). Lulu, at six, is the youngest and highly gifted, and eight-year-old Mönkemeyer lives exclusively for art, especially early 20th-century abstract painting.

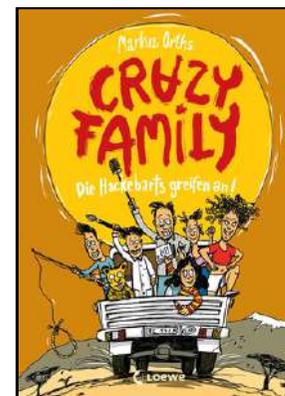

In the first volume of this Crazy Family's adventures, the Hackebarts run into money trouble because of a "mishap" Mönkemeyer had at the local art museum so Brooklyn signs them all up for a quiz show on TV. Will the Hackebarts become millionaires? The chances are good. After all, they have Lulu.

Historical fiction blends with the biography of one of the world's favourite children's authors, C.S. Lewis Davy, a working-class boy living in East Belfast in 1908, is sent to work at the wealthy Lewis household. When he meets Jacks – the name by which CS Lewis was known to friends and family – Davy is captivated by his friend's world of books and stories. Together, the boys plunge into imagining and adventuring, and Davy discovers his own artistic talent. But when Davy is offered a job at the shipyard, and Jack's mother falls gravely ill, their wondrous days of make-believe seem numbered. Will they lose their extraordinary shared world forever?

A fictionalised exploration of the childhood of CS Lewis

*A heartwarming and wonder-filled tale ...
 I highly recommend the book for all ages,
 but especially those children and 'children-at-heart' who've been enchanted by the stories of C.S. Lewis and know something of childhood wonder, the joys of reading, true friendship, and the bittersweet nature of growing up.*

— Steven Elmore, President of the CS Lewis Foundation.

*From the grit and danger of the shipyards to the leafy suburbs, Belfast is vividly evoked in this celebration of the magic of

A touching contemporary fairy tale, a hero's journey with a fantastic medieval-inspired setting

The debut in children's fiction by Daniele Mencarelli, author of the celebrated 'Tutto chiede salvezza', winner of the Strega Giovani prize and adapted into a highly acclaimed by Netflix.

The protagonist, Adelmo, the youngest of seven brothers, must set out in search of them to fulfil his mother's last wish. Thus begins an epic adventure, amidst warring kingdoms, epidemics and a magical river that will help him to know himself and fulfil his wish: to recognise and see his uniqueness and worth recognised.

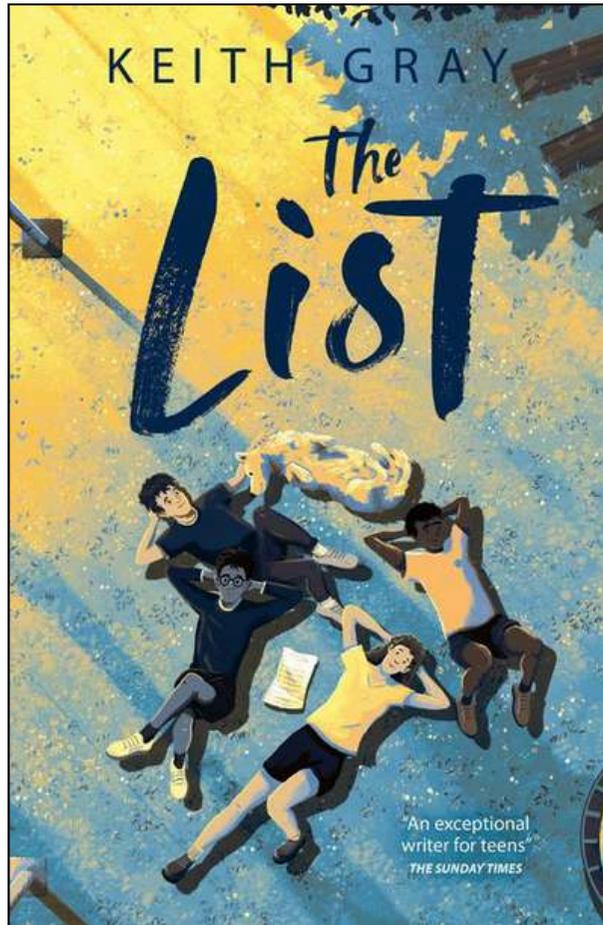

Adelmo, after a childhood spent amidst marginalisation and discrimination, finally succeeds in being accepted by his siblings who have always shunned him, believing him to be his mother's favourite, who allowed him to study and even to have a 'real' name, not like First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth.

During the vicissitudes that put him on the brothers' trail, Adelmo has the opportunity to prove his own qualities, to earn their respect, their trust and, finally, their affection.

- Daniele Mencarelli's previous adult books have been sold to: Arabic, Albania, Croatia, Canada, France, Germany, Greece, Malta, Macedonia, Portugal (Paulinas), Serbia, Spain (Spanish-Encuentro, Catalan-La segona perifèria), UK and US.
- A fantastic adventure made of trials to overcome, kingdoms to cross, worlds to discover, and full of courage, determination and family ties.
- A story about courage, the search for one's own identity and the importance of understanding that not everything depends on one's own will.

The List

Can friendships survive as Denny relives the good times and rewrites the bad?

It's the end of the summer, and Denny is having to move away with his mum now that she's found a good job, but he's not planning on leaving quietly. He's made a list of scores to settle and wrongs to right before he goes. He asks his best friend, Jake, to help.

Jake is absolutely gutted that Denny is leaving and worries about what life will be like without him. Of course he'll do anything to help, no matter how weird or unrealistic the items on Denny's list might be. But the list is more powerful than either of them realises - it can make and break friendships.

"There's loads and loads I really want to do before I leave, so I've had to choose the most important: One, get revenge on Mal. Two relive my first kiss. Three, say sorry to Mrs Hubler. Four, return what I stole. Five, ride Burdock again."

"I don't get it," I said.

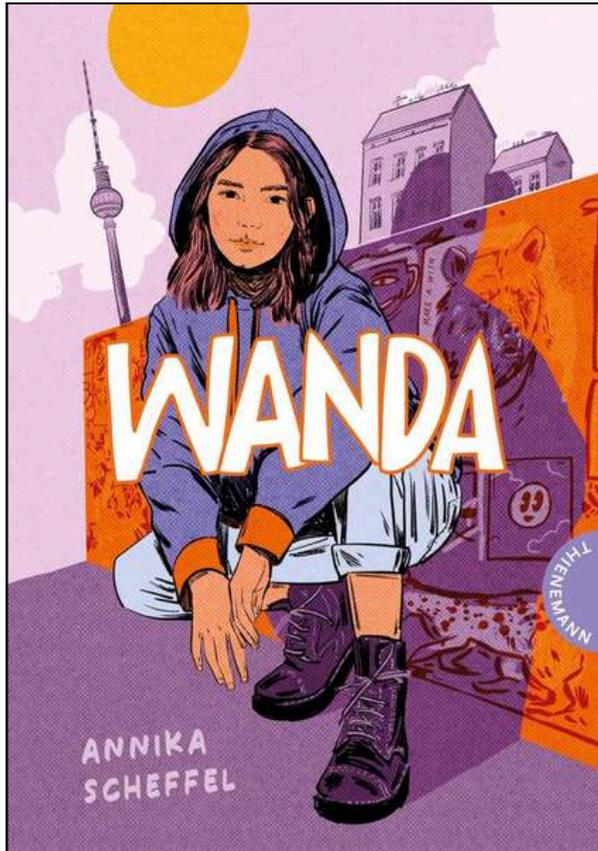

"What's to get?" Denny sounded offended.

"These are impossible!" I said.

A modern Momo... haunting, compelling, with a touch of magic Wanda has had enough of life in care homes and foster families. She wants to take her fate into her own hands, so she runs away.

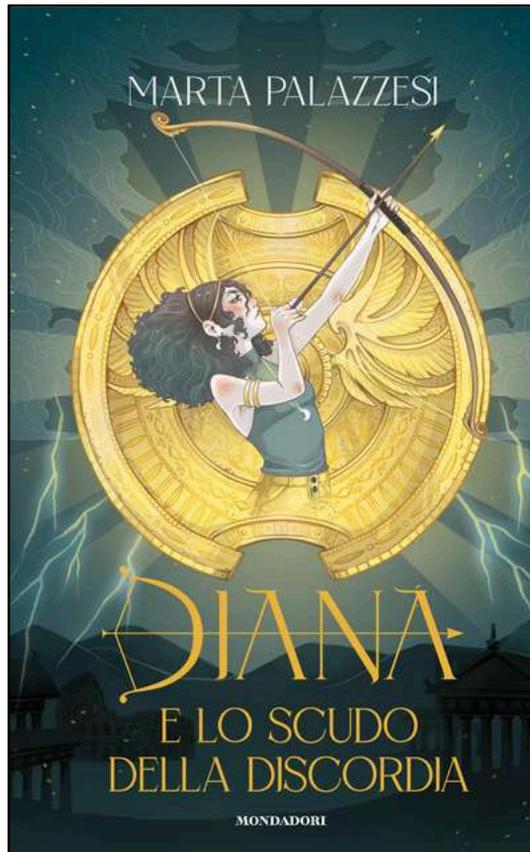

She finds a hiding place in the noisiest place in the city, of all places, and starts to change not only her own life, but also that of a motley group of outsiders: Sami, who knows the city like no other and is hiding a secret, the wondrous Dora, who wants to save her garden, the shy Peri, the fine and super-nice hotel porter Jo and the street musician Nino.

Together they embark on an exciting quest that keeps the whole city on tenterhooks. In the process, Wanda realises that she is not only a part of this world, but also wants to belong to it. But in her very own way.

- A unique narrative style: haunting, approachable, with a touch of magic
- The story of a girl's search for a home and a future
- An inspiring, strong and compelling female character

Diana

ID #42000

A breathtaking and hilarious ride through Roman legends — where mythology meets modern wit, the gods are unpredictable, and the stakes are higher than ever!

Diana, a young goddess of the woods, lives in harmony with nature until Jupiter entrusts her with a crucial mission: to find the Ancile Shield before it falls into the hands of the perfidious goddess Discord. Accompanied by her twin brother Apollo and Nox, her wild cat, she will face gladiators, three-headed monsters and vengeful gods until she descends into the heart of the underworld; but another threat that threatens to oust Jupiter hides in the streets of Rome and a secret lurks in the house of the father of the gods... Between epic fights and unexpected alliances, Diana will do anything to save the city so dear to the gods, and help her father in exchange for the truth about her mother, Latona.

- A female Percy Jackson by the award-winning author of the Premio Strega Ragazzi e Ragazze.
- A fearless heroine, vengeful gods, and a race against time.
- A gripping, action-packed journey through Roman mythology, rich in historical accuracy, humor, and an irresistible fast-paced plot.

A gripping YA detective story with true crime elements that holds great appeal for a YA audience

Robyn is obsessed with the Ambrosia, the hotel opposite her flat. Its dark history and shady-looking long-term guests are so fascinating to the 17-year-old true crime fan that she often sits at her window watching the hotel through her binoculars.

She knows the staff's routines, the guests' habits and the odd dirty secret. Robyn secretly dreams of cracking a cold case. But then she witnesses an abduction, and suddenly, all of this is not a game any longer. She knows at once that she has to help the victim.

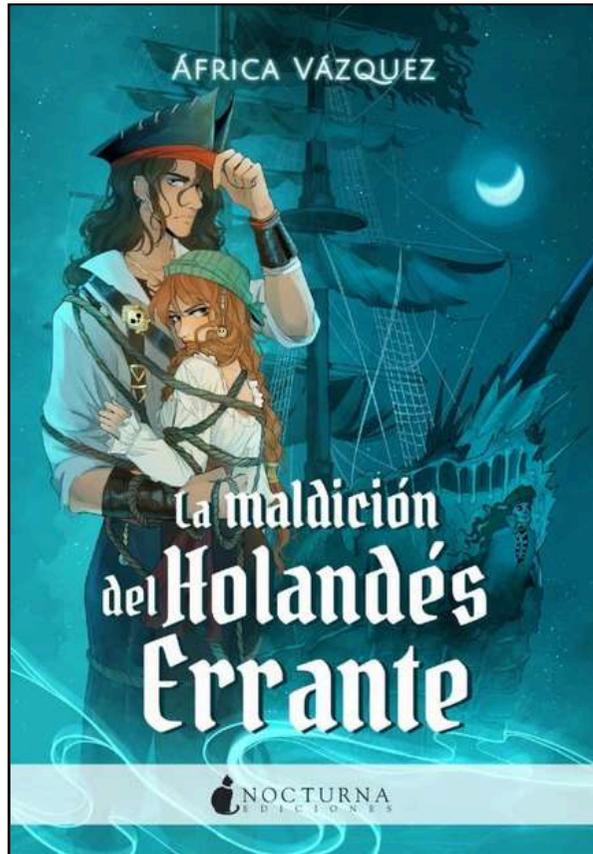

There's just one problem: Robyn's illness means she can't leave her sixth-floor flat. How on earth is she going to solve the case?

- The creepy Ambrosia hotel is reminiscent of the famous and much-hyped 'horror hotel' Cecil
- The narrative is broken up by emails, a timeline and exciting research documents

A story of impossible love bewitched by a millenary curse

8th Century. Every seven years, the Flying Dutchman, a pirate ship, is sighted from the northern coast of Spain, with its bone hull and skeleton on the bow. Every seven years, Captain Van der Decken returns to the mainland in search of a new woman to take aboard his cursed ship. If she refuses, his entire village dies; if she accepts, she will never be seen again.

Willem van der Decken never grows old. The Flying Dutchman has been haunting the nightmares of the living for two centuries. But this time a unbeatable fisherwoman is ready to stand up to the immortal pirate...

A tender and sweet royal romance set in Paris between a prince and a journalist

Prince Achilles of Trasia and Princess Geneviève of France are destined for an arranged marriage. But when the prince, overwhelmed by the lack of love in his future, runs away from his royal engagement, he crosses the path of Levi, a disillusioned journalist whose life is on the verge of collapse. Despite his initial reluctance, Levi soon discovers that the prince's presence may be the opportunity he needs to save his dying newspaper. Prince and journalist come to a pact that will change their lives forever: in exchange for Achilles hiding out in Levi's Paris apartment, the journalist will only ask him for information. In a world where duty and desire collide, they will discover that love can arise in the most unexpected places.

A love story based on the signs of the horoscope and engraved in the stars, about destiny and the strength of feelings, beyond space and time

Growing up with a grandmother who's an expert on stars, Lily knows that each planet influences life with its own particular energy. And she also knows that with every eclipse of the sun or moon, she travels into the future and sees herself with a boy, always the one, who seems destined to ruin her life. Oliver, who belongs to a very different family, is also able to travel into the future and sees himself with the girl of his dreams: Lily. When the planets bring them together, she flees, he chases her. Between love, mystery and teenage problems, Lily will have to decide whether to accept the price of pain in order to know happiness, or to protect herself from her emotions, but also from life.

He's Mr. Irrelevant - but she sees so much more in him

Leah Herst only wants one thing: to become the first female head coach in the NFL. But right now she's sitting on the bench analyzing training videos... That's where she discovers him: Sam Ashton, one of the LA Vipers' quarterback draft picks – nicknamed Mr Irrelevant.

Leah sees his talent and his desire to prove himself. Sam could be her big idea. If she helps him succeed, they could both achieve their goals. While she secretly coaches Sam, she gets to know him and finds out what really drives him.

The attractive athlete increasingly wins Leah's heart, even though it puts her dream at risk because if they were discovered, their careers could be over before they even began...

This is the start of the LA Vipers trilogy!

Vampires, blood and love:
a thrilling and powerful romantasy set in a dark, magical city

North of Italy, 1898. Clelia is the only woman enrolled in Medical School, and her knowledge of human anatomy raises more than a few eyebrows. Most people find her fascination with death inappropriate — if not suspicious. But Clelia doesn't mind. Death has never bothered her. For years, she's been helping her vampire stepmother, Lucretia, hunt for prey: violent men who harm women. Until one night, after a hunt, she crosses paths with Brando Ferraris, a reporter who is convinced a vampire is stalking Turin. He's determined to expose the truth in his next article. To protect Lucretia from becoming prey rather than hunter, Clelia must get close to Brando. But knowing your enemy is a double-edged sword – and Clelia will soon have to choose which side she's really on.

The Hunger Games meets The Royals

Her beautiful sister was meant to be the one competing for the crown prince's hand, but now shy girl Iris is forced to take her place. Yet if she wants to be queen, she must first survive a deadly contest...

This is the day the daughters of Vesmon's aristocracy have been preparing for all their lives: the day of the Royal Games, whose winner will marry the crown prince. Without her training in magic, Iris would never have qualified for the contest, but now that her sister Hyacinth is suddenly out of the running, she has no choice. The moment Iris arrives at the royal court, she is drawn into a web of intrigue. Her mentor Cylus is her only hope of survival – but despite his stand-offish ways, he soon makes her lose sight of her original goal...

After the assassination of Prince Cilian and the revelation that Prince Cylus is the true crown prince, the king will do anything to preserve the integrity of the Royal Games. Iris is faced with a cruel choice: continue to take part in this fatal contest, or be executed. Only the top three will survive, but victory – and thus a chance at happiness with Cylus – is impossible. While Iris keeps up her tough fighter's façade in front of the cameras, deep down she's finding it increasingly harder to hide her true feelings for Cylus. But ever since his cousin Cilian's assassination, the prince is convinced he can't trust her. Will she be able to win his heart – and survive the Royal Games?

Everything you ever wanted to know about sleep but were too exhausted to ask

We spend around a third of our lives sleeping. But what actually happens during those hours? This book takes you on a fascinating journey through the land of sleep and out the other side, with an engaging tie-in to biology and natural sciences curriculums.

- What are circadian rhythms and how do they affect our energy levels throughout the day?
- What are dreams for and how do they happen?
- What are the different stages of sleep?
- Do animals experience sleep the same way we do?

Painting and drawing your favourite animals has never been this easy!

A hamster, a squirrel, a flamingo, a squid, a crocodile... This playful learning book makes things easy: first, follow the step-by-step guide to drawing the creature's basic shapes, then fill in the details. A circle plus an oval, for example, will turn into a little dog.

The best thing about it is that working with basic geometric shapes doesn't take as much planning and precision as drawing freeform outlines. That way, your little artist will feel like they have really achieved something, and discover the joy of drawing.

Sometimes you need to follow the music to find your way back to yourself

Nel is 15 years old and life is a grind. GCSEs are exhausting, social pressures are relentless and adults are oblivious. Somehow Ludo, Nel's handsome twin brother, seems untouched by it all, gliding effortlessly through life's complications. Her best friend, Kit, and her playlist are pretty much the only things Nel's got going for her right now.

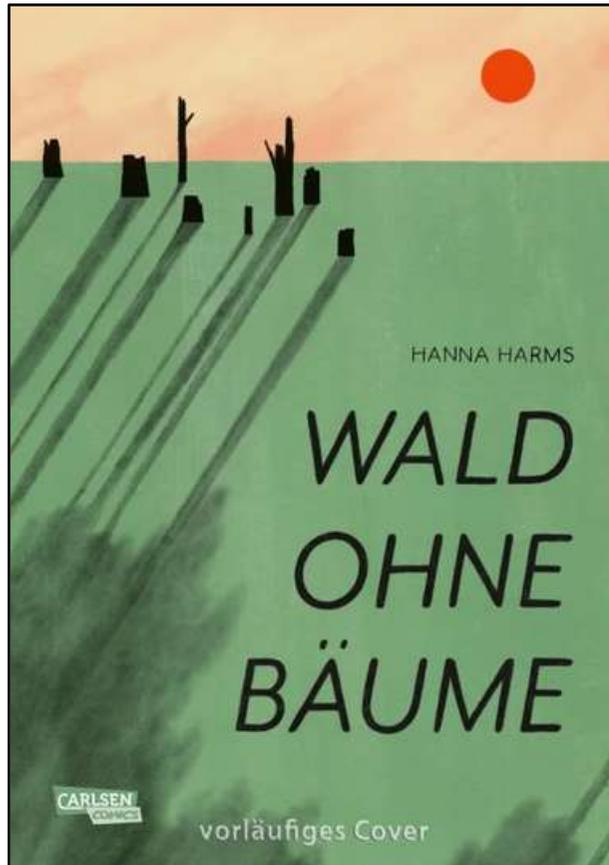

When Ludo joins a band and Kit starts going out with the guitarist, it feels like even the tiny space Nel has carved out for herself is in peril. But nothing is forever, and teenage life can turn on a dime. When Nel finds herself taking Ludo's place in the band, she has to work out whether life outside the shadows is all it's cracked up to be.

 that blends Orwell's 1984 with *The Truman Show

In a society where perfection is the only path to survival, a brilliant but anxious young woman is marked for exile by an all-seeing AI. As she unravels the conspiracy behind her downfall, she discovers that she may be the key to overthrowing a totalitarian regime -if she can first learn to trust herself.

The Great Prophet Godo has a place for everyone in his perfect society: for the shining examples, the dutiful and ambitious... and also for the less successful. The student Itshou does her best to live up to Godo's standards - and to hide her shortcomings. But is Godo's system really infallible? When her glittering future is already within her grasp, Itshou becomes a pawn in political power struggles that call into question everything she thought she knew about Godo, her family and herself...
