NO LONGER YOURS (Vol. 1)

465 pages | Paperback | September 2022

She never believed in second chances – until she meets him again

Avery can hardly believe her luck: she has actually landed one of the coveted rooms at the MULBERRY MANSION! The university is offering the students the old English mansion at a favorable price in return for a competition to renovate it.

But Avery's joy is suddenly dampened when she finds out that one of her housemates is none other than her ex-boyfriend Eden, who broke her heart at the highschool prom. The warm-hearted boy from back then has become a withdrawn, silent man who keeps everyone at arm's length. But in order to win the competition, the two have to work together. And this brings up feelings that Avery has been over for a long time, right?

“Avery’s and Eden’s story hurts in the best way and is so, so good at the same time: what Merit has created here is one of the most moving and authentic new-adult novels I’ve ever had the pleasure of reading.”

NO LONGER LOST (Vol. 2)

528 pages | Paperback | February 2023

Can you love a person you thought was impossible to?

The Mulberry Mansion's funding is being cut! Psychology student May would do anything to save her home, even asking for help from the one person she absolutely can't stand - Wesley Hastings, 'king' of Windsbury University and son of the Vice-Chancellor. Completely unexpectedly, Wes agrees to put in a good word for the villa with his mother - the only catch: May is to take part in his psychology experiment with the thesis: Can you love everyone?

She agrees to the deal because she can't imagine falling in love with someone like Wes. But the project makes her realise that there is so much more behind the rich boy's facade. Nevertheless, May must never let her feelings for Wes get the better of her ...

NO LONGER ALONE (Vol. 3)

528 pages | Paperback | July 2023

They are best friends and housemates - or something more?

Willow and Maxton couldn't be more different. While fun-loving Willow goes to every party, quiet Maxton prefers to spend time in the garden at Mulberry Mansion. And yet the two share a deep friendship.

Therefore, it is only natural for Willow to help Maxton, when he tries to get into the notorious fraternity at Windsbury University. To do so, he has to pass six tests. Six tasks in six nights, during which Willow discovers completely new sides of her best friend, which make her heartbeat unexpectedly grow faster. But Willow also has a secret that she doesn't want Maxton to find out about, and for this very reason they can never be more than friends ...

“Profound, empathetic and so insanely real – Willow’s and Maxton’s story is a reminder that not everyone who feels lost stays lost.”

DELICATE DREAM (VOL.1)

527 pages | Paperback | August 2024

“I never stopped dreaming about you”

From the day he was born, Odell Evergreen has dedicated his life to take over his family's perfume empire one day. There was only his best friend Emmeline with whom he could finally let go and his heart decide instead of his head. Together they learned all about fragrances and each other, shared their dreams and their first kiss - until Odell suddenly pushed her away.

But when his father dies in an accident, he urgently needs Emmeline's help. Because in order to become CEO, he has to create his own perfume. Despite years of silence, Emmeline agrees to help him. And when they work together, suddenly everything comes back: the memories, the feelings and this fragile dream of a Us...

PURE PROMISE (Vol. 2)

537 pages | Paperback | December 2024

He is her family's biggest rival and her only chance

Marigold is the pet of the family, the party girl who no one is able to take seriously. When she and her brothers inherit their parents' perfume empire, she finally sees the chance to prove herself. But she realizes that she has little to say in the decision-making there either.

Because her brothers won't help Mari, she turns to Beau Midville - son of the biggest rival company, a spoiled playboy and the most hated man in London's high society for her brothers. The plan: get into a fake relationship with him until their families are willing to do anything to separate Mari from Beau. The problem: the closer she gets to Beau, the more the fake feelings become real ...

ETERNAL ENDING (Vol. 3)

Approx. 530 pages | Paperback | April 2025

He puts everything on the line - and loses his heart in the process

Keaton has long felt like an outsider in his family. Unlike his siblings, he would love to turn his back on the perfume empire if it weren't for his father's inheritance condition.

As he looks for a way to turn down the inheritance, he uncovers a secret that leads him to Kenna's family - one of London's most sought-after It Girls. Without further ado, Keaton books her as a model for a major advertising campaign, but doesn't realize that behind her carefree façade lies a vulnerable young woman who is more like him than he thought and who fascinates him more and more. Suddenly the truth could destroy far more than he previously suspected ...
