THE BOOK OF WONDERS

A magical Journey through the most beautiful Fairy Tales

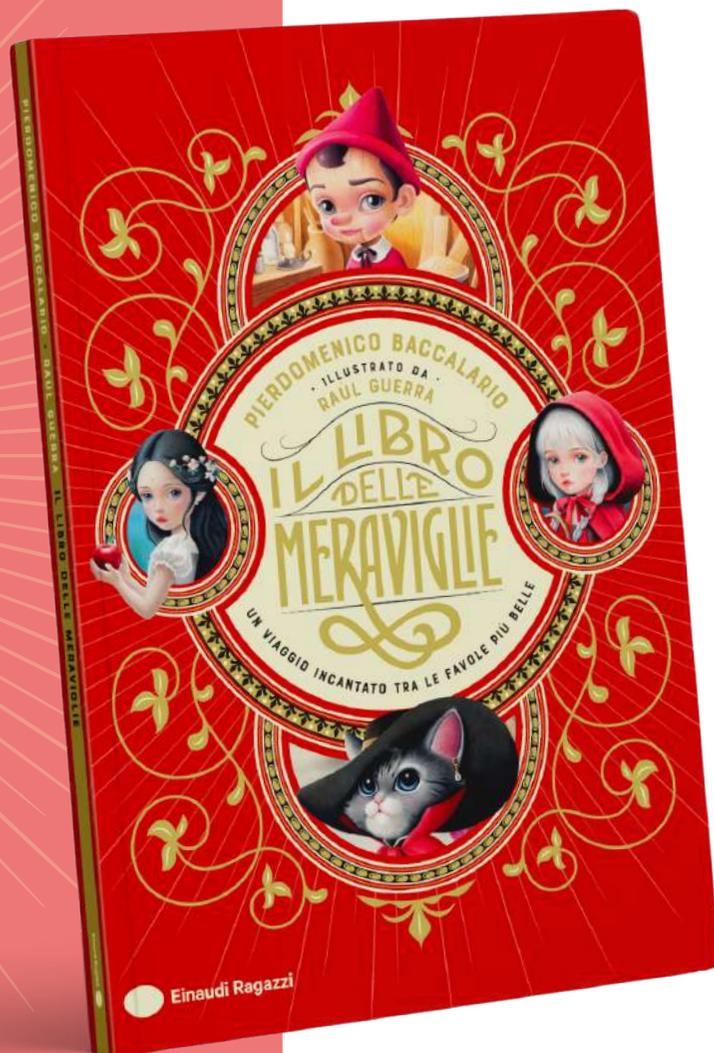

PIERDOMENICO BACCALARIO

ILLUSTRATED BY RAÚL GUERRA

HIGHLIGHT

5+

A magnificent picture book featuring the most beautiful classic fairy tales, rewritten by Pierdomenico Baccalario, one of Italy's most acclaimed children's authors.

Ten everlasting stories, reimagined for today's young readers and masterfully illustrated by Raúl Guerra.

- The Tin soldier
- The little mermaid
- Tom Thumb
- Puss in boots
- Little Red Riding hood
- Pinocchio
- Hansel & Gretel
- Cinderella
- Snow White
- The Snow queen

Pierdomenico Baccalario, born in 1974, won the "Il Battello a Vapore" Prize in 1998 and has since published many adventure and fantasy books for young readers. His titles have been translated into thirty languages. A lawyer and history enthusiast, he works with schools, collaborated with Lucca Comics & Games for over twenty years, and writes for major newspapers.

Raúl Guerra, born in 1978, is an artist and illustrator based in Ronda, Spain. His works are regularly exhibited in art galleries worldwide. His characters embody a synthesis of emotions and experiences and his illustrations evoke nostalgia through mythology and fairy tales, harnessing the universal language of visual storytelling.

THE GIANT

FABIAN NEGRIN

HIGHLIGHT

3+

A modern fairy tale that tells, with gentle irony, the adventurous day of a little boy.

“Once upon a time, there was a giant as big as a mountain and as strong as six thousand bears. For lunch, he devoured fifteen wild boar legs, a whole roasted ox, and ten thousand flasks of Lambrusco wine. He would sleep for an entire week, and his snoring made the earth tremble all the way to the horizon. But if anything woke him up, he would spit fire and tear trees from the ground. One day, a tiny, spoiled, and very stubborn giantess invaded the giant’s castle..”

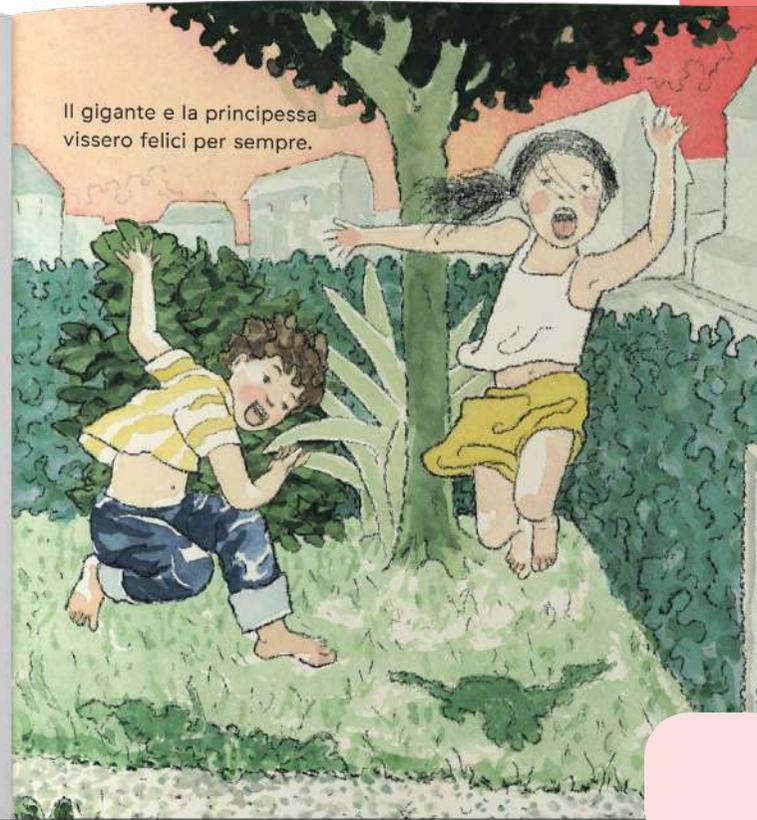

Fabian Negrin is an Italian illustrator born in Argentina in 1963. He earned a degree in Graphic Design in Mexico and has been living in Italy since 1989. He has written and illustrated books for children and young readers, working with both Italian and international publishers. In 2009 he was awarded the BIB Plaque in Bratislava and in 2010 he received the Bologna Ragazzi Award.

What truly defines who we are? Is it better to stay home or to take off and discover the world? And what takes more courage: leaving...or staying?

In an artificial lake inside a city park lives a peaceful colony of ducks. Chicco and his friends lead quiet, predictable lives, shaped by routine and comfort. But when a migratory duck unexpectedly lands in their pond, it throws the whole colony into confusion, especially Chicco. He can't stop asking himself questions:

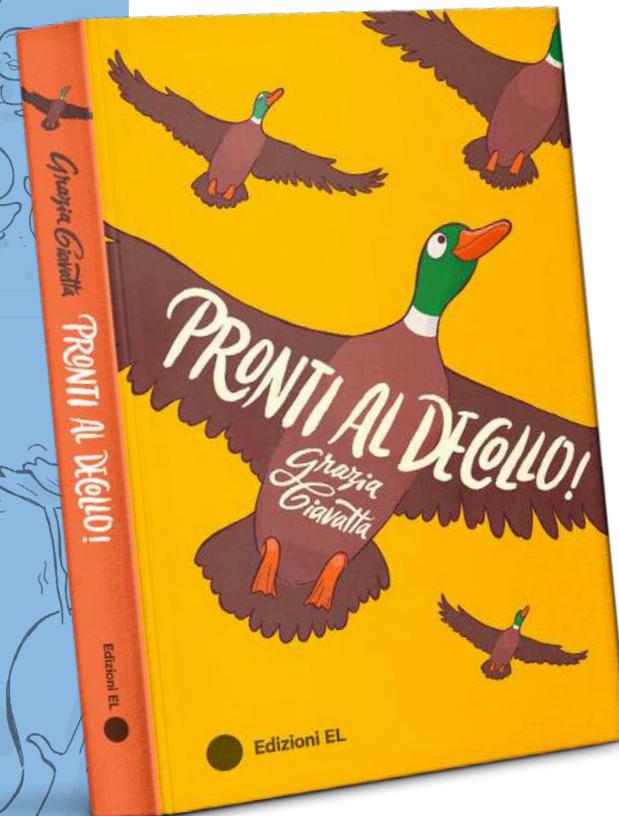

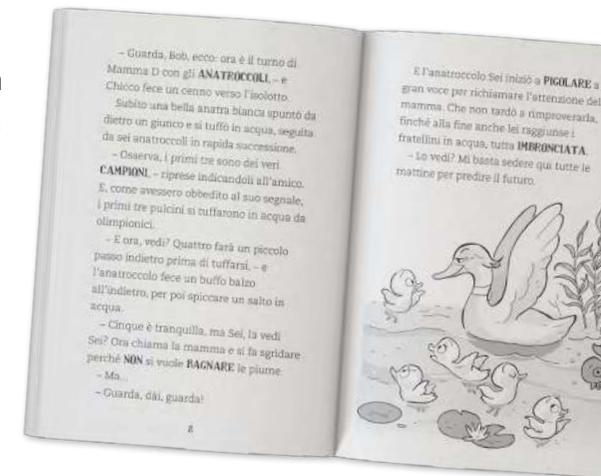

What lies beyond the fence?

How do you learn to migrate?

And what's the best way to live your life: staying safe at home or daring to leave?

Grazia Ciavatta is a police officer in Italy and has been writing for children and young readers for many years.

She has won the "Il Battello a Vapore" Prize in 2012 and was a finalist for the Campiello Junior Award in 2002.

HIGHLIGHT

12+

A story about facing shyness and the fear of being invisible to others.

Bianca tells lies because she wants to feel special. But what if she's already special just the way she is?

Bianca has always been told she's a disaster, afraid of everything. When her parents break up, she starts spending time with her dad and his new partner.

This is her chance to be perfect, even special. All it takes is telling a few lies.

But an unexpected friendship with a mysterious man known as "The Monster" helps her understand that maybe, just maybe, she's already special, exactly as she is.

Linda Traversi was born in Tuscany to an Italian father and an American mother. After graduating in Translation, she started writing short stories that have appeared in Italian and English-language anthologies and literary magazines.
