

Text by A. M. Castro
Illustrations by Maria Guitart

THIS DOG HAS NO TAIL!

English Sample Translation

Contact:
Ute Körner Literary Agent
Paula Esparraguera
p.esparraguera@uklitag.com

Hi! My name is Rufus, I'm three years old, and what I love most is running on the beach, my stuffed animal, and my family.

-

These two are my dad and my mom. They're what I loooooove most in the world. The three of us are very happy together.

-

Mom's been acting a little weird lately. She doesn't leave the house for several hours every day anymore. And she spends a lot of time lying with me on the couch (mind you! I'm not complaining!)

But the weirdest thing is that now... she smells different!

-

Hey! And me?

-

Finally! I thought you'd forgotten about me! I'm so eager to...!

Huh? W-w-what the heck is... that? Another mutt in the house? And me? What will become of me now?

-

What a strange dog! He doesn't do anything. Well, yes: he cries, cries, and cries. Why does he cry so much?

And he also poops. And poops. POOPS LIKE... A LOT.

-

Hey, you little one! Are you hungry? Here, my best bone!

-

Aren't you bored lying here all day? Do you want to play with me?

-

I don't know what kind of dog he is, but I've NEVER smelled anything so wonderful.

-

Again? Don't cry, little one! What do you want? A new collar? The brush? A pillow? My stuffed animal? Oh, wait, I know: a ball!

-

(Rufus) Guys, I need help, the new creature in the house isn't listening to me.

(Dog 1) The thing is, Rufus, your dad and mom had a baby.

(Rufus) A baby?

(Dog 2) Yes, it's still a tiny human and needs to be taken care of all day long.

(Dog 3) But don't worry! I'm sure you'll end up being the best of friends.

-

-

Aaah!

-

Oh no! My baby has lost his favourite toy. Don't worry, little one! I'll help you!

-

Here! What's wrong? Don't you want it?

-

Hey! This isn't funny at all!

Well, it kind of is... Hahaha!

-

Again! Further! Come on, come on! Throw it!

-

My best friend...

-

...forever!